

The only newspaper in Washington with the Associated Press news every morning in the year. For home delivery call Main 4208.

The Washington Post

The weather—Partly cloudy today and tomorrow; not much change in temperature.
Temperature yesterday—Highest, 93; lowest, 69.
Weather details on page 3.

NO. 19,357.

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER POSTOFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

WASHINGTON: SATURDAY, JUNE 15, 1929.

BY THE WASHINGTON POST CO.

TWO CENTS.

YELLOW BIRD PLANE LANDS IN SPAIN

LONDON GREET'S DAWES; PARLEY PLAN IS PUSHED

U. S. Ambassador Will Be Received at Windsor Castle Today.

MACDONALD MEETING IS SLATED TOMORROW

Horde of Newspaper Men Get Terse Statement at Southampton.

BUSY PROGRAM FORCES ACTIVE WAR VETERAN

Invitation to Be Extended to Premier at Conference to Visit U. S.

London, June 14 (U.P.).—Charles G. Dawes, new American Ambassador to Great Britain, arrived here today to introduce England to what is named already "split-second diplomacy" and perhaps, with Britain's new Labor prime minister, to pave the way for a solution of the naval armament problem.

Here is the former Vice President's program from the time the liner Olympic entered Southampton water today: 3:35 p. m.—Arrived Southampton. Issued air-tight prepared statement, saying nothing, but so eloquently worded that it has won him many friends already.

6:40 p. m.—Arrived Paddington Station, London. Welcomed by British officials, Belgian ambassador, and representatives of American Legion and other American societies. Proceeded to American Embassy.

To See King Today.
10:45 a. m. tomorrow—En route for Windsor Castle to be received by King George, in company with Foreign Minister Arthur Henderson, after ride from railway station to ancient castle in state carriage. Returns to London in afternoon.

Tomorrow night—En route for Loughborough, Scotland, to see MacDonal, Sunday for what may be one of the most important conferences in post-war diplomacy.

In his conference with MacDonal, Dawes is expected to invite MacDonal, on behalf of President Hoover, to go to Washington and there, across a table, try to reach an agreement regarding naval strength that will result not only in limitation but in actual reduction of fleet tonnage.

Lands at Colorful Time.
From the day he embarked for London, Dawes has been swept into a chain of dramatic circumstances that rival for action and color the prewar novels of hectic European diplomacy.

There were dispatches from London a few days ago that quoted the Little Labor party newspaper, the Daily Herald, as saying that MacDonal might go to Washington later on for a conference on naval armament with President Hoover.

Next day the dispatches were shown high officials in Washington. It became known at once that President Hoover would welcome such a visit.

While the Olympic was speeding from New York to Southampton it was arranged that Dawes should be taken with unprecedented speed to present his credentials to the king, so that he would become officially the American Ambassador, empowered to act for his government.

Arrange MacDonal Meeting.

The next step was to arrange for him to see MacDonal—in office only a week—and get things started.

MacDonal was at his summer home in his native Scotland, and it was arranged that Dawes should go there immediately after his visit to King George, recovering at his castle from illness.

Dawes had been bombarded, as the Olympic neared port, with radiograms from newspapers demanding that he tell immediately just what he proposed to do. But he stepped ashore this afternoon, puffing away at his famous underslung pipe, and smiling quizzically as he has done since the day when he first won fame as one of the big shots of the American Expeditionary forces in France.

Mayor J. H. Pugh, of Southampton, had happened to be a passenger on the Olympic between Cherbourg and Southampton. As the liner docked, he rushed ashore, donned his mayoral robes and chain in a dock room, and rushed out again to meet the former vice president.

Dawes received him and a horde of journalists in a drawing room of the liner, tanned, fit looking, and vigorous. He wore a gray striped double-breasted suit. The mayor delivered a speech of welcome. Dawes responded briefly.

On the dock a crowd of several hundred was waiting, including representatives of the American Embassy.

"Now let me talk to the press," he said after exchanging greetings.

There are cash values attached to many of these stunts for some one in

Famous Men May Testify On Rum Ring

Special to The Washington Post.
New York, June 14.—Men, whose names are by words in circles where wealth, business and social standing are discussed, will be called before the grand jury which is now investigating rum-ring activities, both sales and purchases, following the arrest June 6 of Count Maxence de Polignac and 31 others in a series of raids which netted $150,000 worth of liquor, a number of weapons and lists of alleged customers of the count, according to reliable information divulged here today.

One of the men who will be called by the grand jury, the report says, is the president of a great corporation. His home, on Long Island, is said to

CONTINUED ON PAGE 3, COLUMN 8.

SPEED LIMIT IS CUT IN CONNECTICUT AVE.

Reduction From 30 to 22 Miles Per Hour Follows Killing of Child.

MANY HAD COMPLAINED

The District Commissioners yesterday approved the recommendation of Traffic Director William H. Harland to abolish the 30-mile speed limit for traffic on Connecticut avenue.

The limit hereafter on the avenue will be 22 miles an hour, fixed in the traffic regulations and generally applicable to District streets except for especially indicated stretches.

Harland's recommendation for a reduction of speed on Connecticut avenue was submitted to the Commissioners Wednesday following the killing of an 8-year-old girl at the intersection of Albemarle street last Tuesday night.

Numerous complaints against the speed of traffic past that intersection had been lodged with traffic officials, but the traffic advisory council had disapproved any reduction in the 30-mile speed limit, urging instead installation of automatic traffic signal lights.

Harland had previously recommended that the end of the 30-mile limit be moved to a point 500 feet south of Albemarle street, but Commissioner Proctor L. Dougherty sent the recommendation back to the traffic director with a request that he give further study to the question of eliminating the entire 30-mile limit stretch. This was several weeks ago. The death of the child Tuesday night brought the matter to a climax.

Harland said no new regulation would be needed to put the reduction in effect. The 22-mile limit, he said, will be made effective as soon as signs can be changed and the change has been given public notice in the newspapers.

Charles Bradley Dies in Auto Crash

Capital Man Burns to Death After Car Plunges From Bridge.

Charles Bradley, of Wardman Park Hotel, was killed instantly last night when the automobile in which he and Louis Glavis, of Larchmont, N. Y., were riding plunged from a bridge 4 miles from Washington, Del. Glavis was seriously injured and is in the Delaware Hospital at Wilmington.

The automobile, said to be the property of Bradley, caught fire after the plunge and burned. Bradley's body, which was pinned under the wreckage, was incinerated. Bradley and Glavis were en route to Rye, N. Y., to visit the former's brother. Glavis was thrown clear of the wreckage, according to advice reaching Washington.

Fame Waits Film Aspirant In Post-Fox Movie Contest

Would-Be Screen Stars May Be Discovered by Newspaper and Theater Camera Tests. Conditions of Great Opportunity in The Post Tomorrow.

Can you do something distinctively different and do it well? If so, your chance of succeeding in motion pictures is as good, if not better than, if good looks or beauty are your claims.

Talent and grace, together with a leaning toward artistry, provided, of course, that you photograph well, will be the determining factors in the screen tests for those of Washington and vicinity who enter the Post-Fox Screen Test Contest, details of which will be announced tomorrow in a full-page advertisement in The Washington Post.

The little tricks which you may be performing at gatherings of your friends and relatives, mannerisms which have given your acquaintances a laugh and bits you may have done in amateur theatricals will all help you across when a screen test is made.

There are cash values attached to many of these stunts for some one in

CONTINUED ON PAGE 3, COLUMN 2.

TARIFF PLANS FACING DEFEAT; FARM AID WINS

Borah Resolution to Limit Changes to Agriculture Has Majority.

REPUBLICAN LEADERS COMBAT RESTRICTION

Hoover Placed in Position of Having Support at Insurgents' Hands.

GETS AGRARIAN BILL AFTER SENATE VOTE

Democrats and Independents Assail President's Stand on Export Debuture.

By CARLISLE BARGERON.

The possibility that Congress may be adjourned without tariff revision arose yesterday, as the farm bill was finally passed and sent to the President.

The farm bill was passed by a vote of 74 to 8, attended by dire predictions from the Democrats, but inasmuch as its passage was a foregone conclusion, little interest was manifested.

Instead, the Republican leaders turned their attention to the latest threat at the serenity of things, the Borah resolution, which gives it as the sense of the Senate that tariff revision should be confined to agricultural and directly related products.

There was the clear admission yesterday on the part of the leaders that Borah now has enough votes to pass his resolution. A recess was taken over the week-end, during which time Senator Watson hopes to pick up some strength. Admittedly, it is questionable as to whether he can do so.

Adjournment May Result.
In the meantime, sentiment is developing among House leaders and Eastern senators that if the situation is to shape up that way they will try to force an adjournment. The possibility that they would try to do that or that they would be able to do it is remote, of course.

Strangely enough, President Hoover is likely to be put in the position now of fighting those with whom he stood in the debate night and aligning himself with the much-hated coalition.

Undoubtedly he looks with disfavor upon the extent to which they would carry their cause, that is, the exclusion of all items not agricultural and directly related to agriculture, but he must be with the "spirit" of the movement.

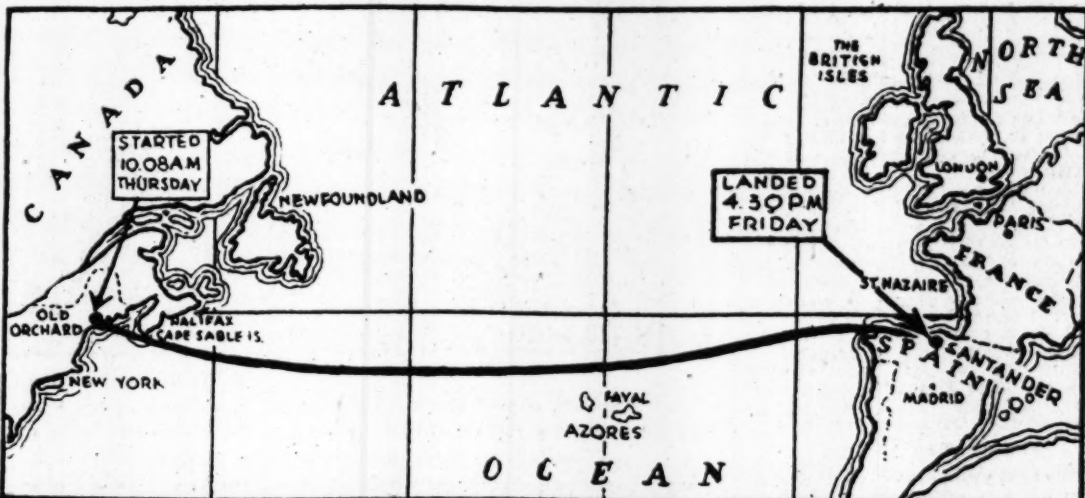

He has repeatedly made it known that he wants a limited revision, mainly for agriculture. He has been freely represented as prepared to veto the House bill should it be sent to him.

Fess "Explains" Hoover's Plan.

Senator Fess, of Ohio, sought to explain yesterday that the President, by "limited revision," does not mean confining it to agriculture, and it is a fact that the President, in his message to Congress, referred to agriculture and such other industries that needed tariff revision. But it can not be gainsaid that the purpose of the Democratic-Progressive coalition comes nearer to according with what has been represented to be Mr. Hoover's views than

CONTINUED ON PAGE 5, COLUMN 3.

COURSE OF SUCCESSFUL ATLANTIC FLIGHT

The above map shows the route taken by the French airplane Yellow Bird in its flight over the north Atlantic from Old Orchard, Me., to a point on the Spanish coast near the city of Santander.

ANTI-SMITH PARLEY BOLTED BY CONRAD

Head of Committee Calling Lynchburg Conference to Support Regular.

SEES MAPP AS NOMINEE

Harrisonburg, Va., June 14 (A.P.).—George H. Conrad, former State senator and chairman of the committee of ten that called the anti-Smith conference at Lynchburg on February 5, announced tonight that he had withdrawn from the committee and would not attend the convention to be held at Roanoke, June 18. Mr. Conrad said he would support G. Walter Mapp, one of the three candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor in the August primary.

Mr. Conrad said that while he agreed with much that Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, had said in his letter advising anti-Smith Democrats to stay out of the Democratic primary, he did not deem it wise for the anti-Smith forces to nominate a third ticket for State offices. He said that he did not desire to be committed in any way by attending the Roanoke convention to support the anti-Smith nominees.

Mr. Conrad said Mapp would poll from 10,000 to 15,000 more votes from the ranks of the anti-Smith Democrats than either John Garland Pollard or Roswell Foss, the other two candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor. He added in his statement that he would support James H. Price, lieutenant governor in the general election should Mr. Price be nominated by the Democrats. He made no reference to the contest for attorney general.

Neither Mr. Price nor Attorney General John R. Saunders are opposed in the Democratic primary.

In the 1928 campaign, conducted by the anti-Smith Democrats against the national Democratic ticket Mr. Conrad was a leading figure in the Shenandoah Valley section. He continued active in the organization this spring, serving on the committee of ten that called the conference at Lynchburg, which in turn issued the call for a State anti-Smith convention.

Mr. Conrad's statement follows closely the announcement last night by William Mowley Brown, Washington and Lee University professor, that he would become an independent candidate for governor if nominated by both the anti-Smith and Republican conventions. Mr. Brown is known to have been considered as a possible nominee of the anti-Smith convention and also to be favored by Republican leaders.

Such a coalition candidate would bring into alliance in the State election the Republican and anti-Smith forces that carried Virginia for Hoover last year.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 3, COLUMN 6.

Queen Mary Appears With Shortened Skirt

London, June 14 (U.P.).—Society here has been stirred by the news that Queen Mary has recently appeared in public with her skirt greatly shortened.

The gown which has attracted attention is a pretty blue silk lace dress with the hem between 9 and 10 inches from the ground. Hereafter the queen rarely has been seen with a skirt more than 4 to 5 inches from the ground.

The lord chamberlain of Buckingham Palace requires in the regulations for court functions that skirts must not be more than 9 inches from the ground.

HOUSE IS IN UPROAR OVER RUM KILLINGS

LaGuardia Charge That U. S. Is Breeding Hatred by Policy Challenged.

MURPHY ASSAILS SPEECH

A furious debate over prohibition killings broke out in the House late yesterday, in the course of which a wet and a dry shouted at each other across the chamber and a third member demanded that the sergeant-at-arms establish order.

The row was started by Representative LaGuardia, wet Republican, of New York, who, after citing the killing of Henry Virkula and other civilians by Federal agents, predicted a civil war over prohibition and declared that Uncle Sam "has become something hated, something oppressive."

Representative Frank Murphy, dry Republican, of Ohio, leaped to his feet, while with anger, and demanded that LaGuardia's words be taken down by the clerk, which is a preparatory step toward a reprimand. Then he demanded that the words be kept out of the Record.

The chair, however, held that LaGuardia had not transgressed the rules of the House, and the New Yorker thus emerged from the debate victorious.

Earlier yesterday Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lowman announced that E. J. White, the customs patrolman who shot Virkula, near International Falls, Minn., last Saturday night, "was acting within his authority under the law and had a perfect defense."

Representative William C. Pittenger (Republican), of Minnesota, who represents the district in which Virkula was killed, issued a statement late yesterday in which he accused Lowman of "whitewashing" the customs agent, and again demanded a Congressional investigation of this and other killings.

The dramatic clash between LaGuardia and Fitzgerald yesterday was

CONTINUED ON PAGE 3, COLUMN 6.

STOWAWAY ABOARD WHEN 3 FRENCHMEN ARE FORCED DOWN BY FAILURE OF FUEL

Weight of American Youth, 22, Is Called Hindrance to Its Complete Success; Fliers Disappointed as Journey Halts 400 Miles Short.

STRONG WINDS FORCE CHANGE OF COURSE, THWARTING PLANS

Crew of Big Craft Had Paris as Destination; Unexpected Passenger Discovered Ten Minutes Out, Says Assolant, Pilot; Will Fly On to Goal.

Santander, Spain, June 14 (U.P.).—The giant French monoplane Yellow Bird successfully completed the eighth eastward crossing of the North Atlantic Ocean tonight, but was forced down on the rough, pebbly beach at Comillas because an American boy had done what experts said was "impossible" and stowed away on the craft.

The Yellow Bird landed on the beach, 25 miles west of here, at 9 p. m. (3 p. m. Eastern standard time), after a flight of approximately 3,475 miles in 29 hours and 50 minutes.

Jean Assolant, pilot of the plane, jumped from the cabin of the Yellow Bird holding Arthur Schreiber, of Portland, Me., by the collar. The American youth had hidden himself on the big craft shortly before it took off from the beach at Old Orchard, Me., Thursday morning.

Assolant Introduces Stowaway.

Assolant and the Portland youth faced the crowd which rushed out from the little village of Comillas when the plane glided to a long, rolling landing on Oyambre beach.

"Meet our unexpected pilot," said the 23-year-old French flier, as he introduced the boy to the startled townspeople. Assolant said the extra weight of the boy had been the cause of their failure to reach their objective—Paris.

"I had not calculated for the extra weight in the amount of gasoline carried," he explained, as his two companions, Rene Lefevre, navigator, and Armeno Lotti, backer and radio operator, joined him.

The big plane was slightly damaged shortly before it reached Santander, and Assolant said he expected the damage would delay their departure for Paris until Saturday noon.

But Assolant, who married a New York chorus girl, Miss Pauline Parker, four days ago, and his companions were in high spirits as they discussed their flight over the Atlantic, telling how they had "a fine trip" except for the high winds which forced them to change their course after they passed the Azores Islands.

Found Beach Good For Landing.

Their gas gave out just as they reached the rocky beach at Comillas and Assolant referred to that "coincidence" as their last and probably most important piece of luck. There were only a few drops of fuel left in the tanks when the plane rolled to a stop in the dusk.

Although Assolant blamed young Schreiber for their failure to complete the projected flight, he appeared very much attached to the boy and refused to turn him over to police.

"He shared our risks and he is one of us now," said the French pilot when asked about the youth. "We will see that he sees all there is to see in Paris and then send him home on a steamship. He is a nervous lad, a typical American boy. We are proud of him."

Assolant gladly told the story of his flight to the United Press correspondent, who talked to him as he was led to the hotel at Comillas by a cheering mob of people. Officials of the town accompanied the fliers to the hotel and the youthful stowaway brought up the rear, trying to decide whether to look proud or sheepish, but certainly looking as though he had the world at his feet.

Pilot Asks For Fuel Supplies.

The pilot first asked military authorities to send several hundred gallons of gasoline from Santander and was assured that the fuel would be on hand in the morning. He also requested a special "starting bar," which will be brought from Paris or Madrid by airplane to take the take-off on the rocky beach. The departure of the fliers depends on arrival of necessary supplies.

"We had a fine trip and it was wholly unexpected except for this youngster bobbing up ten minutes after we started," said Assolant, as he smiled at the young American. "We discussed turning back to put him off, but decided after seeing the accident which befell the Green Flash (the American plane which crashed at Old Orchard a few minutes after the Yellow Bird took off) that we should stay in the air."

"It seemed safest to go ahead," Assolant continued, "so we pushed the boy back into his cubbyhole, where he rode throughout the flight, sharing our fruit and sandwiches."

Head Winds Force Course Change.

"Our flight was almost according to schedule until we neared the Azores Islands. Then hard winds forced us to change our course and swing southward rather than pass well to the north of the islands. That extra mileage and the stowaway's extra weight caused us to use up our gasoline."

"Fighting head winds off the European coast, we decided to go as far as possible before our gas gave out. It was a happy coincidence that a nice stony beach permitted us to land when there were just a few drops left. We developed some motor trouble just before landing and it will be necessary to have some small spare parts brought here from Le Bourget field before we can continue to Paris Saturday. We hope to start at noon."

Entire Town Grets Four.

The entire population of Comillas rushed out to the beach to greet the fliers, who arrived totally unexpectedly on the beach. They accompanied the aviators to the Lamondana Hotel, shouting a happy greeting. Pretty señoritas brought flowers and

CONTINUED ON PAGE 2, COLUMN 4.

Festive Paris Mob Cheers Safe Yellow Bird Landing

Crowd at "Quartz Arts Ball" Enthusiastic Over Atlantic Crossing, but Disappointed That Airmen Failed to Reach Capital on Hop.

Index to Today's Issue.

Pages.

1—Dawes, in London, Speeds Work.

2—Noted Men Linked in Rum Quiz.

3—Tariff Program Faces Defeat.

4—Yellow Bird Plane Lands in Spain.

5—Virginia Bolts Anti-Smith Parley.

6—Rum Killings Stir House.

7—Gas Firm Sale May Face Quiz.

8—Plane Stowaway Wins Praise.

9—Woman Mutilated by Slayer.

10—Detroit Rum Men Arm for War.

11—Sino-Russian Break Near.

12—Mother Held in Son's Poisoning.

13—Radio-Film Merger Formed.

14—Editorial.

15—Society.

16—News of Capital Churches.

17—Behind the Screens.

18—Magazine Features.

19—12-15—Financial.

20—13-15—Sports.

21—The Post's Comics.

22—Classified Advertisements.

23—Fair Ralse Inquiry Looks.

24—Capitol Pay Ralse Pushed.

25—Prominent Chinese Face Quiz.

26—Gas Fumes Kill Man.

filled the arms of the fliers as they walked through the little town. They dined at the hotel after telegraphing to the governor at Santander to ask for a supply of gasoline. The governor invited them to go to Santander, but they decided to stay at the hotel near their plane, rather than make the 25-mile trip tonight. After eating a hearty dinner the three fliers and "the unexpected pilot" responded to the continued cheers of the crowd outside and appeared on the balcony of the hotel.

Assault was the first to step out on the balcony, being forced to leave the table before he had finished his meal. He waved to the crowd and held aloft the pet chameleon which was carried on the flight for good luck. The little animal was given the fliers by a Portland, Me., man before their departure from Old Orchard.

Schreiber, who is 22 and weighs about 165 pounds, had little to say and found only a few persons with whom he could converse. Assault is but one year older.

The first persons to reach the Yellow Bird when it landed on Oyambre Beach were several fishermen, who rushed from their boats to the spot and surrounded the plane even before its propeller had stopped turning.

Fliers Aided by Villagers. The fishermen grasped the hands of the aviators and aided them in descending from the cabin of the plane. The fliers indicated that they were very much surprised to learn that they were still more than 100 miles from French territory, believing that they had reached France before their gasoline gave out.

When they were informed that they were on the Spanish coast, both Assault and Lefevre grimaced and uttered an exclamation of impatience at not having terminated their flight in their native land.

The big monoplane, with its brilliant yellow wings and tri-color striping, remained on the beach tonight, surrounded by civil guards and a few soldiers.

The three aviators retired a short while after dining, saying they were very tired.

2 German Atlantic Fliers Are Honored

U. S. Ambassador in Berlin Presents Busts of Koehl and Von Huenefeld

Berlin, June 14 (A.P.).—Bronze busts of Capt. Hermann Koehl and the late Baron Gumbert von Huenefeld were presented to the ministry of transportation today by United States Ambassador Jacob Gould Schurman, in the name of the German Club of Chicago, a delegation of which was present. The busts were executed by F. Engelmann, of Chicago. Leading officials of the ministry, the Luftwaffe Aero Club and members of the American colony attended the ceremony.

Minister of Transportation Adam Steward welcomed the gift as a sign of German-American friendship and pointed out that in aviation there has been lively interchange of ideas between Germany and America.

Ambassador Schurman declared the heroism of the German aviators who were first to make a successful westward crossing of the North Atlantic by airplane had "touched the universal heart and imagination."

Capt. Koehl sent his regrets at being held in southern Germany by business. The family of the baron was represented by his brother. Preceding the unveiling the Chicago delegates were entertained by the Schurz Society.

Log of the Yellow Bird On U. S. to Spain Flight

(Associated Press.)

June 13, 9:08 a. m., E. S. T.—Took off from Old Orchard Beach, Me., for Paris.

10:13 a. m., E. S. T.—Passed over Matineux Rock Light, off the Maine coast.

5:45 p. m., E. S. T.—Reported by S. S. Wytheville about 350 miles at sea.

11:52 p. m., E. S. T.—American Farmer hears Yellow Bird communicating with Ilers Rochambeau and Laconia.

June 14, 1 a. m., E. S. T.—Tells S. S. Rochambeau she is taking southern route toward Portuguese coast over the Azores, because of diminishing gas supply.

5 a. m., E. S. T.—S. S. Niagara talks with Yellow Bird, which reports all well on board. (Position of plane not given.)

2 p. m., E. S. T.—Private radio operator in Paris gets message from plane saying she is 200 miles off Oporto, Portugal, and would try for a landing in southern France if gas held out.

3 p. m., E. S. T.—Radio station at Bordeaux gets message from plane it was flying north along Portuguese coast. Fliers said they were keeping coast in sight and wireless communication was maintained for half hour.

Landed on beach near Santander, Spain, late Friday afternoon. (Exact hour of landing unconfirmed.)

Hoover Felicitates France Upon Flight

Sends President of Republic a Message of Congratulation.

(Associated Press.)

President Hoover has extended congratulations to President Doumergue on the flight of the French aviators in the Yellow Bird. J. Reuben Clark, Jr., acting Secretary of State, last night instructed the American Embassy in Paris as follows:

"Please deliver the following message from the President to the President of the French Republic:

"Upon the occasion of the magnificent night across the Atlantic by your companions, I wish to extend to you and to the French people, as well as to the aviators themselves, my sincere congratulations and an expression of my admiration of their gallantry."

Fliers Believed They Had Landed in France

Comillas, Spain, June 14 (U.P.).—The three French fliers in the transatlantic airplane Yellow Bird believed that they had reached the coast of France when they landed here tonight.

The aviators intimated that they had been mistaken in their position, believing that they had reached the extreme southeast coast of France. Their gasoline was exhausted, however, and they had no choice about landing.

LINDBERGH INSPIRED STOWAWAY ON AERO

Did It for Glory, Says Young American as Transsea Fliers Defend Him.

COURAGE WINS PRAISES

Comillas, Spain (Saturday), June 15 (U.P.).—The glory of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh inspired the adventure of Arthur Schreiber, of Portland, Me., who must go down in the history of aviation as the first stowaway on a transatlantic airplane.

The 22-year-old American youth, who flipped a coin with a comrade to decide which of them would sneak aboard the French monoplane Yellow Bird for its flight from Old Orchard, told the United Press this morning that the famous American flier is his idea of "the greatest man."

"Lindbergh is the greatest man I know about," said young Schreiber, who fooled aviation experts who did not believe it possible for a stowaway to be aboard the plane. "I wanted to do what Lindbergh did."

"I was unable to pilot a plane, so I decided to put myself inside one," Schreiber discussed the friendly charge of Jean Assault, chief pilot of the Yellow Bird, that he was responsible for the failure to reach Paris.

Defended by Assault. "Why did you do this?" he was asked. "Did you not think of the danger to the others, if not to yourself?"

Without hesitation he replied: "This meant glory for me. I was determined to do like Lindbergh, and fly across the ocean."

Assault then came to the American boy's defense. "Our stowaway emerged 20 minutes after the take-off from Old Orchard," he said. "Our surprise was as tremendous as our indignation, but when we regarded his big blue eyes—which seemed to be mutely begging for pardon—we looked at one another and smiled."

Assault laughed as he told of the discovery of the stowaway. "In the beginning we were unable to decide whether to strangle our stowaway or drop him out to return him," the pilot said, "but we realized that since we had got past the great difficulty of getting up in the air with him it would be best to take him along."

"We also thought Providence had guarded us in the take-off from Old Orchard and it was our duty to guard him it would be best to take him along."

Will Be Cared For. Paris, June 14 (U.P.).—The parents of Armeno Lotti, radio operator and backer of the Yellow Bird's transatlantic flight, want to take care of the American boy who stowed away on the French monoplane "as if he were our own child."

The French hotel owner, whose son sponsored the successful flight, said his son had talked to him by telephone after landing at Comillas, Spain.

"This was a wonderful flight," the elder Lotti said. "I couldn't believe they were safe until they finally talked to my son. We intend to care for the stowaway as if he were our own child. It must be fine for a youngster to have such courage."

Thousands of police were stationed along the road to Le Bourget to keep back the crowds which hoped to see the arrival of the Yellow Bird. The great interest shown by the public in the flight was not lessened by the fact that the air ministry has placed a ban on long-distance air ventures and the three fliers were forced to go to New York to start their flight rather than leave from Le Bourget.

And it was observed throughout the flight that the government officers were as interested in the fate of the Yellow Bird as the public. The big French monoplane is one of the greatest ships ever built for French fliers.

OCEAN FLIER BIDS BRIDE GOOD-BY

Jean Assault, one of the Yellow Bird fliers, embracing his bride of three days, a former Broadway actress, just before he took off with two companions on a flight to Spain.

FESTIVE PARIS CROWD CHEERS SAFE YELLOW BIRD LANDING

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.

pean countries and the United States came especially for the occasion. The celebration of the fliers' safe landing was somewhat dimmed by the fact that the theater crowds had gone home before the news reached the capital, but the midnight frolic of the students lent a festive atmosphere.

The United Press advised Air Minister Laurent Eynac of the landing. "It is a splendid sporting achievement," said the air minister. "It will not have great value as a commercial achievement, however. The aviators had good luck when they landed in Europe and they must be congratulated for their courage."

The great interest of France was heightened by the memory of the flight of Nungesser and Goll, the two valiant war aviators who were lost on an attempt to reach New York from Paris. France can never forget the long days of alternate hope and disappointment and the final crushing loss of the famous White Bird over the North Atlantic.

Thousands of police were stationed along the road to Le Bourget to keep back the crowds which hoped to see the arrival of the Yellow Bird. The great interest shown by the public in the flight was not lessened by the fact that the air ministry has placed a ban on long-distance air ventures and the three fliers were forced to go to New York to start their flight rather than leave from Le Bourget.

And it was observed throughout the flight that the government officers were as interested in the fate of the Yellow Bird as the public. The big French monoplane is one of the greatest ships ever built for French fliers.

Thousands of police were stationed along the road to Le Bourget to keep back the crowds which hoped to see the arrival of the Yellow Bird. The great interest shown by the public in the flight was not lessened by the fact that the air ministry has placed a ban on long-distance air ventures and the three fliers were forced to go to New York to start their flight rather than leave from Le Bourget.

And it was observed throughout the flight that the government officers were as interested in the fate of the Yellow Bird as the public. The big French monoplane is one of the greatest ships ever built for French fliers.

Thousands of police were stationed along the road to Le Bourget to keep back the crowds which hoped to see the arrival of the Yellow Bird. The great interest shown by the public in the flight was not lessened by the fact that the air ministry has placed a ban on long-distance air ventures and the three fliers were forced to go to New York to start their flight rather than leave from Le Bourget.

And it was observed throughout the flight that the government officers were as interested in the fate of the Yellow Bird as the public. The big French monoplane is one of the greatest ships ever built for French fliers.

Thousands of police were stationed along the road to Le Bourget to keep back the crowds which hoped to see the arrival of the Yellow Bird. The great interest shown by the public in the flight was not lessened by the fact that the air ministry has placed a ban on long-distance air ventures and the three fliers were forced to go to New York to start their flight rather than leave from Le Bourget.

And it was observed throughout the flight that the government officers were as interested in the fate of the Yellow Bird as the public. The big French monoplane is one of the greatest ships ever built for French fliers.

Thousands of police were stationed along the road to Le Bourget to keep back the crowds which hoped to see the arrival of the Yellow Bird. The great interest shown by the public in the flight was not lessened by the fact that the air ministry has placed a ban on long-distance air ventures and the three fliers were forced to go to New York to start their flight rather than leave from Le Bourget.

And it was observed throughout the flight that the government officers were as interested in the fate of the Yellow Bird as the public. The big French monoplane is one of the greatest ships ever built for French fliers.

Thousands of police were stationed along the road to Le Bourget to keep back the crowds which hoped to see the arrival of the Yellow Bird. The great interest shown by the public in the flight was not lessened by the fact that the air ministry has placed a ban on long-distance air ventures and the three fliers were forced to go to New York to start their flight rather than leave from Le Bourget.

And it was observed throughout the flight that the government officers were as interested in the fate of the Yellow Bird as the public. The big French monoplane is one of the greatest ships ever built for French fliers.

Thousands of police were stationed along the road to Le Bourget to keep back the crowds which hoped to see the arrival of the Yellow Bird. The great interest shown by the public in the flight was not lessened by the fact that the air ministry has placed a ban on long-distance air ventures and the three fliers were forced to go to New York to start their flight rather than leave from Le Bourget.

And it was observed throughout the flight that the government officers were as interested in the fate of the Yellow Bird as the public. The big French monoplane is one of the greatest ships ever built for French fliers.

Thousands of police were stationed along the road to Le Bourget to keep back the crowds which hoped to see the arrival of the Yellow Bird. The great interest shown by the public in the flight was not lessened by the fact that the air ministry has placed a ban on long-distance air ventures and the three fliers were forced to go to New York to start their flight rather than leave from Le Bourget.

And it was observed throughout the flight that the government officers were as interested in the fate of the Yellow Bird as the public. The big French monoplane is one of the greatest ships ever built for French fliers.

Thousands of police were stationed along the road to Le Bourget to keep back the crowds which hoped to see the arrival of the Yellow Bird. The great interest shown by the public in the flight was not lessened by the fact that the air ministry has placed a ban on long-distance air ventures and the three fliers were forced to go to New York to start their flight rather than leave from Le Bourget.

And it was observed throughout the flight that the government officers were as interested in the fate of the Yellow Bird as the public. The big French monoplane is one of the greatest ships ever built for French fliers.

Thousands of police were stationed along the road to Le Bourget to keep back the crowds which hoped to see the arrival of the Yellow Bird. The great interest shown by the public in the flight was not lessened by the fact that the air ministry has placed a ban on long-distance air ventures and the three fliers were forced to go to New York to start their flight rather than leave from Le Bourget.

And it was observed throughout the flight that the government officers were as interested in the fate of the Yellow Bird as the public. The big French monoplane is one of the greatest ships ever built for French fliers.

Thousands of police were stationed along the road to Le Bourget to keep back the crowds which hoped to see the arrival of the Yellow Bird. The great interest shown by the public in the flight was not lessened by the fact that the air ministry has placed a ban on long-distance air ventures and the three fliers were forced to go to New York to start their flight rather than leave from Le Bourget.

WOMAN MUTILATED BY MYSTERY KILLER

Medical Student, 25, Found With 19 Knife Wounds; Was Out on "Date."

WILD STRUGGLE SHOWN

Columbus, Ohio, June 14 (A.P.).—The mutilated body of a young woman, found by two boys this morning on the New York Central Rifle Range, 5 miles northwest of Columbus, was identified tonight as that of Miss Theora K. Hix, 25, second-year medical student at Ohio State University.

Miss Hix's home is at Bradenton, Fla. The body bore signs of a severe struggle. The killer stabbed her seventeen times in the head with a weapon that left a wound about the diameter of a finger. Her throat had been slashed 5 inches and there was a long gash on her abdomen.

Miss Hix's face was so badly slashed that for nearly seven hours the body was in an undertaking establishment before identification could be made.

Allice and Beatrice Bustin, sisters, and roommates of Miss Hix, identified the victim by her hair and clothing and by a wrist watch, which, apparently due to a struggle, had stopped at 10 o'clock. They said she was out on a "date" at the time she was killed.

Miss Hix was at University Hospital at 7:45 o'clock last night, just across the way from the house where she resided with her roommates.

She went to the hospital at 7 o'clock in the hope of obtaining a position as a switchboard operator to maintain herself in summer school. She waited around the building from 7 until 7:45, when she said to Miss Bertha Dillon, the girl who was then operating the switchboard:

"I've got to go now. I've got a date. I'll be back about 9:30 or 10."

The police were working tonight in an effort to learn with whom she had the "date." She did not confide this information either to her roommates or Miss Dillon nor did they learn her destination.

The Bustin girls said they did not begin to worry about the absence of Miss Hix until noon today, when an unidentified woman called on the telephone and asked for Theora. The woman on the phone said she had a dinner engagement with Miss Hix. Allice Bustin replied that Theora was not in and hung up without learning who had called. Several minutes later she became suddenly aware that Miss Hix's absence was unusual and when inquiry disclosed any trace of her, Miss Bustin called the police.

The police directed the girls to the undertaking establishment, where they identified the body.

Miss Hix was graduated from the Arts College of Ohio State University two years ago and she then enrolled in the medical college. She was the daughter of Melvin T. Hix, of Bradenton, Fla.

Acquaintances of the girl said that she had no intimate friends either men or women.

The Misses Bustin said that as far as they knew she never had a "date" before.

Jones Law Jails 3 Women, 2 Men

189 Quarts of Liquor Are Seized in Raids by the Police Squad.

Three women and two men were arrested on liquor charges under the Jones law yesterday afternoon in five raids conducted by the squad of Sergeants J. J. Lettman and R. J. Cox, in which 189 quarts of liquor were seized.

Those arrested, all of whom are colored, were Johnson, 29 years old, of 1727 New Jersey avenue northwest; Charles Proctor, 35 years old, of 2337 Sherman avenue northwest; Kate Sellers, 37 years old, of 406 Franklin street northwest; Walter Moxley, 20 years old, of 923 Desmond court southwest; and Rebecca Edelen, 39 years old, of 927½ Desmond court.

At the establishment of the Johnson woman police found one of the most ingenious traps for liquor yet uncovered. It was located in a four-foot water-filled dugout under a linoleum covered floor over which was placed a dining table. Cox and Lettman, with James A. Moxyn and George McCar-

Man Injured as Car Collides With Taxicab

John G. Radin, 36 years old, of 912 Ninth street northwest, was slightly injured early yesterday evening when the automobile he was driving collided with a taxicab operated by Bruce Bowne, of 118 B street northwest, at Illinois and Upshur street northwest.

Radin was treated by Dr. Charles W. Harnberger, of 4201 Illinois avenue northwest, for bruises to the side. His condition is not serious, and he went to his home after treatment.

Kelleher Will Appeal Gambling Decree Today

Jack B. Kelleher, dapper "big shot" Capital sportsman, who was found guilty of a 23-count gambling charge on Tuesday, is scheduled to appeal for a new trial before Chief Justice Walter I. McCoy today in criminal branch of the District Supreme Court. In the event his plea is denied, and there is little likelihood that it will be granted, sentence will be imposed.

The sportsman was denied bail following his conviction and is now in the District Jail awaiting sentence. By the verdict, a sentence of approximately 50 years may be imposed, since the indictment included six felony counts. Speculation has been rife among attorneys and others since the conviction and the prevailing opinion is that Kelleher will not be given more than a ten-year term.

SPECIAL NOTICE

MR. J. H. B. GILLIAT HAS WITHDRAWN from the firm of Horace H. Westcott & Co. as of May 21, 1929.

HORACE H. WESTCOTT
HARRIET HOLLISTER

Bring the Kiddies Here

Our 42 years' experience shoe fitting will help them to develop normal feet.

BURT'S
1343 F

Pied Piper

World's Greatest Health Shoes

$2.75 to $7.00

For Vacation days—give the little feet the comfort provided by the patented features of this wonderful shoe. No Staples; no Wrinkled Linings; no Pinched Toes; no Cramped Feet. Just solid comfort.

Berberich's TWELFTH-F STS.

Hickey-Freeman
CUSTOMIZED CLOTHES

Linen Clothes

THE rapid approach of hot weather brings linens to immediate attention. Coat and trousers of Irish Linen are offered. Also waistcoats and knickers of the same material if desired.

Linen Coat and Trousers, $15.00

Linen Waistcoat, $5.00

Linen Knickers, $5.00

Goldheim's

Apparel for Gentlemen—Established 1875

FOURTEEN HUNDRED AND NINE H STREET

SPECIAL VACATION SERVICE

As a special service all regular Post subscribers may secure MAIL SERVICE at their vacation address at regular city rates.

Make The Washington Post your vacation companion.

Daily and Sunday

2 weeks35c

1 month70c

Telephone or mail all vacation addresses to Circulation Department

THE WASHINGTON POST, MAIN 4205

Special Offer June 1—Oct. 1, 1929

ron, who accompanied them, ransacked the place for nearly an hour before locating the cache.

Police Keeping Lookout For Missing Schoolgirl

A lookout for Roberta Nagel, 18-year-old schoolgirl, who has been missing from her home at 1932 Thirty-eighth street northwest since 8 o'clock yesterday morning, was issued last night by the police of the Seventh Precinct at the request of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Nagel.

The girl's parents refused to discuss her disappearance when questioned last night, other than to say that she had not returned at a late hour. When she left home she wore a green silk dress, patent leather shoes, light hose and no hat.

The Mode Says—

Fashionable Tropicals

That'll Appeal to the Most Fastidious Dressers

New arrivals are here from Fashion Park and Mode tailors—featuring all the popular feather-weights and providing for all sizes.

Fashion Park 3-Piece Tropical

Worsted$50 and $65

Mode 3-Piece Tropical

Worsted$35

Mode 2-Piece Tropical

Worsted$27.50

Nurotex Suits$17.50

Linen Suits, beginning at$15

Silk Poplin Suits$40

Pure Camel's Hair Sports Coats, $25

Flannel and Serge Trousers:

Plain White and New

Stripes$10, $12, $15 and $16.50

We are ready to make "immediate delivery" of comfort.

The Mode—F St. at Eleventh

Eleventh & F streets

MEYER'S SHOP

1331 F Street

MEN... Here's the Most Important News in the Paper Today - - Meyer's Classical

Anniversary Sale of 1929

Tomorrow is FATHER'S DAY Remember Dad!

$2 and $2.50
Reyem Shirts

$1.88

(6 for $11)

$1 and $1.50
Silk Neckwear

79c

(6 for $4.50)

$2.50 and $3
Pajamas

$1.79

(2 for $3.50)

DETROIT RIVER RUM MEN ARRIVE FOR WAR

Battle With Lewis Guns Is Predicted by Chief of Canadian Port.

RUNNERS GET NO QUARTER

Windsor, Ont., June 14. (Canadian Press.)—An early clash of serious proportions between United States Coast Guard officers and the Detroit River and Lake Erie rumrunners is expected by Chief of Police Harry Timmis, of Amherstburg, Ont.

"There'll be a big row, on the river before long, it seems from present indications," he said today.

Amherstburg, recognized by the United States prohibition enforcement agents as temporary headquarters of the down-river rum crews, is swarming with strangers from across the river, the chief said. Most of these men are identified in various capacities with the liquor industry, he said. Although a few of them may be undercover men for the United States Customs or Coast Guard services.

The chief suspects the rum crews lying in the Amherstburg and Sugar Island sector are armed or are arming with Lewis guns in readiness for the much heralded major offensive by the United States forces. "And it is my opinion that these new arrivals will use the guns," the chief said, "and they are bothered by the Coast Guard crews."

The gunners have charged repeatedly that they had been fired on without warning by the police river patrol, who did not give them an opportunity to halt for a search of their craft or for a surrender.

Chief Timmis has not seen any boats leaving Amherstburg with liquor cargo and guarded by machine guns, as yet, but the operators naturally would keep their weapons out of sight while docked at a Canadian port or while in Canadian waters, he said.

Rum runners operating from Amherstburg claimed tonight to have landed large quantities of liquor on the docks, 20 miles below Detroit, on the Lake Erie shore.

They boasted that they had taken advantage of the confusion said to have been created among the United States Coast Guard crews by the suspension of W. S. Casey, commander of the rum chaser C. G. 236, who was relieved of his charge and ordered to Buffalo because he ran into Marblehead, Ohio, for fuel without orders.

Girl Enjoys Good Meal; Tops It With Poison

San Francisco, June 14 (U.P.)—Miss June Nevins, 21, entered a downtown restaurant and ordered a dinner. She took her time eating and the waiter noticed that she apparently relished each bite.

When she finished she calmly lifted a bottle of poison to her lips and drained it. Emergency hospital physicians saved her life.

Owen Young Lands; Goes to Cleveland

Reparations Official Will Attend Wedding of Son Today

New York, June 14 (U.P.)—Owen D. Young, chairman of the recent reparations conference at Paris, will leave today for Cleveland to attend the wedding of his son, John D. Young, Jr., to Miss Mary L. Wright, daughter of the late John D. Wright, Jr., of the Cunard line Aquitania, accompanied by Thomas Nelson Perkins and Thomas W. Lamont, two other members of the unofficial United States commission.

The three commissioners left the Aquitania at 10:30 a. m. in a Government cutter and were landed at the Battery. Young went to his home at Park avenue and prepared for an immediate departure for Cleveland, Ohio, where he is to attend the wedding tomorrow of his eldest son, Charles J. Young, and Miss Esther Marie Christensen.

The reparations chairman was not interviewed, but his secretary, W. Packer, gave out a typewritten statement after the Aquitania docked in which Young expressed his gratitude to the other members of the commission for their cooperation. J. P. Morgan, the fourth member of the commission, returned here several days ago.

DIED

BIRMINGHAM—On Thursday, June 13, 1929, at 10:15 a. m. Elizabeth, beloved wife of the late Harry L. Birmingham, died at her residence, 1230 S. 1st street, Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM—On Thursday, June 13, 1929, at 10:15 a. m. John L. Birmingham, died at his residence, 1230 S. 1st street, Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM—On Thursday, June 13, 1929, at 10:15 a. m. John L. Birmingham, died at his residence, 1230 S. 1st street, Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM—On Thursday, June 13, 1929, at 10:15 a. m. John L. Birmingham, died at his residence, 1230 S. 1st street, Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM—On Thursday, June 13, 1929, at 10:15 a. m. John L. Birmingham, died at his residence, 1230 S. 1st street, Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM—On Thursday, June 13, 1929, at 10:15 a. m. John L. Birmingham, died at his residence, 1230 S. 1st street, Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM—On Thursday, June 13, 1929, at 10:15 a. m. John L. Birmingham, died at his residence, 1230 S. 1st street, Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM—On Thursday, June 13, 1929, at 10:15 a. m. John L. Birmingham, died at his residence, 1230 S. 1st street, Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM—On Thursday, June 13, 1929, at 10:15 a. m. John L. Birmingham, died at his residence, 1230 S. 1st street, Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM—On Thursday, June 13, 1929, at 10:15 a. m. John L. Birmingham, died at his residence, 1230 S. 1st street, Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM—On Thursday, June 13, 1929, at 10:15 a. m. John L. Birmingham, died at his residence, 1230 S. 1st street, Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM—On Thursday, June 13, 1929, at 10:15 a. m. John L. Birmingham, died at his residence, 1230 S. 1st street, Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM—On Thursday, June 13, 1929, at 10:15 a. m. John L. Birmingham, died at his residence, 1230 S. 1st street, Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM—On Thursday, June 13, 1929, at 10:15 a. m. John L. Birmingham, died at his residence, 1230 S. 1st street, Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM—On Thursday, June 13, 1929, at 10:15 a. m. John L. Birmingham, died at his residence, 1230 S. 1st street, Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM—On Thursday, June 13, 1929, at 10:15 a. m. John L. Birmingham, died at his residence, 1230 S. 1st street, Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM—On Thursday, June 13, 1929, at 10:15 a. m. John L. Birmingham, died at his residence, 1230 S. 1st street, Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM—On Thursday, June 13, 1929, at 10:15 a. m. John L. Birmingham, died at his residence, 1230 S. 1st street, Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM—On Thursday, June 13, 1929, at 10:15 a. m. John L. Birmingham, died at his residence, 1230 S. 1st street, Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM—On Thursday, June 13, 1929, at 10:15 a. m. John L. Birmingham, died at his residence, 1230 S. 1st street, Birmingham, Ala.

The Listening Post

By CARLISLE BARGERON

President Hoover ever gets this Congress away from here, the prospects are that he will devote some time to a study of his relations with that body. At least it would seem that he should.

The manner in which he let himself be drawn into the fight for supremacy between the House and the Senate, the underlying motive in the farm relief debate, did him no good. It suggested an innocence not heretofore attributed to him.

Of course, the impression that the public generally has is that he was not drawn into the fight at all; that, instead, it was a case of his egging the House on after the Senate's scalp. A little study of the situation, however, would seem to disprove this, to reveal that it was a case of the House using Mr. Hoover to further its ambitions, not Mr. Hoover behind that body urging it on.

For one thing there has been nothing about Mr. Hoover so far, nothing in anything he has done or said, to suggest that he wants to make trouble; of all things, that he likes to fight.

His two messages on the debenture one several weeks ago, just as the Senate was about to vote the first time, and the second upon the occasion of its second vote a few days ago, are being cited as evidence of his Rooseveltian spirit, of his vigorous action when vigor is needed, of his being, perhaps, a little slow to strike, but striking from the shoulder when he does.

As a matter of plain fact, Mr. Hoover let go of his first stinger after Senator Watson had asked him to have the votes to kill the debenture then and there. The senator was in error, of course, but that is beside the point.

And the second shot came after Speaker Longworth had called him on the telephone and told him, just after the Senate had voted for the debenture the second time, that he would let his House vote on it the following day. This "vigorous" message was designed to keep the House members in line but was hardly necessary. It was most certainly not intended as a slow of the mailed fist.

It is a matter of plain fact, Mr. Hoover let go of his first stinger after Senator Watson had asked him to have the votes to kill the debenture then and there. The senator was in error, of course, but that is beside the point.

And the second shot came after Speaker Longworth had called him on the telephone and told him, just after the Senate had voted for the debenture the second time, that he would let his House vote on it the following day. This "vigorous" message was designed to keep the House members in line but was hardly necessary. It was most certainly not intended as a slow of the mailed fist.

It is a matter of plain fact, Mr. Hoover let go of his first stinger after Senator Watson had asked him to have the votes to kill the debenture then and there. The senator was in error, of course, but that is beside the point.

And the second shot came after Speaker Longworth had called him on the telephone and told him, just after the Senate had voted for the debenture the second time, that he would let his House vote on it the following day. This "vigorous" message was designed to keep the House members in line but was hardly necessary. It was most certainly not intended as a slow of the mailed fist.

It is a matter of plain fact, Mr. Hoover let go of his first stinger after Senator Watson had asked him to have the votes to kill the debenture then and there. The senator was in error, of course, but that is beside the point.

And the second shot came after Speaker Longworth had called him on the telephone and told him, just after the Senate had voted for the debenture the second time, that he would let his House vote on it the following day. This "vigorous" message was designed to keep the House members in line but was hardly necessary. It was most certainly not intended as a slow of the mailed fist.

It is a matter of plain fact, Mr. Hoover let go of his first stinger after Senator Watson had asked him to have the votes to kill the debenture then and there. The senator was in error, of course, but that is beside the point.

And the second shot came after Speaker Longworth had called him on the telephone and told him, just after the Senate had voted for the debenture the second time, that he would let his House vote on it the following day. This "vigorous" message was designed to keep the House members in line but was hardly necessary. It was most certainly not intended as a slow of the mailed fist.

It is a matter of plain fact, Mr. Hoover let go of his first stinger after Senator Watson had asked him to have the votes to kill the debenture then and there. The senator was in error, of course, but that is beside the point.

And the second shot came after Speaker Longworth had called him on the telephone and told him, just after the Senate had voted for the debenture the second time, that he would let his House vote on it the following day. This "vigorous" message was designed to keep the House members in line but was hardly necessary. It was most certainly not intended as a slow of the mailed fist.

It is a matter of plain fact, Mr. Hoover let go of his first stinger after Senator Watson had asked him to have the votes to kill the debenture then and there. The senator was in error, of course, but that is beside the point.

And the second shot came after Speaker Longworth had called him on the telephone and told him, just after the Senate had voted for the debenture the second time, that he would let his House vote on it the following day. This "vigorous" message was designed to keep the House members in line but was hardly necessary. It was most certainly not intended as a slow of the mailed fist.

It is a matter of plain fact, Mr. Hoover let go of his first stinger after Senator Watson had asked him to have the votes to kill the debenture then and there. The senator was in error, of course, but that is beside the point.

And the second shot came after Speaker Longworth had called him on the telephone and told him, just after the Senate had voted for the debenture the second time, that he would let his House vote on it the following day. This "vigorous" message was designed to keep the House members in line but was hardly necessary. It was most certainly not intended as a slow of the mailed fist.

It is a matter of plain fact, Mr. Hoover let go of his first stinger after Senator Watson had asked him to have the votes to kill the debenture then and there. The senator was in error, of course, but that is beside the point.

And the second shot came after Speaker Longworth had called him on the telephone and told him, just after the Senate had voted for the debenture the second time, that he would let his House vote on it the following day. This "vigorous" message was designed to keep the House members in line but was hardly necessary. It was most certainly not intended as a slow of the mailed fist.

It is a matter of plain fact, Mr. Hoover let go of his first stinger after Senator Watson had asked him to have the votes to kill the debenture then and there. The senator was in error, of course, but that is beside the point.

And the second shot came after Speaker Longworth had called him on the telephone and told him, just after the Senate had voted for the debenture the second time, that he would let his House vote on it the following day. This "vigorous" message was designed to keep the House members in line but was hardly necessary. It was most certainly not intended as a slow of the mailed fist.

It is a matter of plain fact, Mr. Hoover let go of his first stinger after Senator Watson had asked him to have the votes to kill the debenture then and there. The senator was in error, of course, but that is beside the point.

And the second shot came after Speaker Longworth had called him on the telephone and told him, just after the Senate had voted for the debenture the second time, that he would let his House vote on it the following day. This "vigorous" message was designed to keep the House members in line but was hardly necessary. It was most certainly not intended as a slow of the mailed fist.

It is a matter of plain fact, Mr. Hoover let go of his first stinger after Senator Watson had asked him to have the votes to kill the debenture then and there. The senator was in error, of course, but that is beside the point.

And the second shot came after Speaker Longworth had called him on the telephone and told him, just after the Senate had voted for the debenture the second time, that he would let his House vote on it the following day. This "vigorous" message was designed to keep the House members in line but was hardly necessary. It was most certainly not intended as a slow of the mailed fist.

It is a matter of plain fact, Mr. Hoover let go of his first stinger after Senator Watson had asked him to have the votes to kill the debenture then and there. The senator was in error, of course, but that is beside the point.

And the second shot came after Speaker Longworth had called him on the telephone and told him, just after the Senate had voted for the debenture the second time, that he would let his House vote on it the following day. This "vigorous" message was designed to keep the House members in line but was hardly necessary. It was most certainly not intended as a slow of the mailed fist.

It is a matter of plain fact, Mr. Hoover let go of his first stinger after Senator Watson had asked him to have the votes to kill the debenture then and there. The senator was in error, of course, but that is beside the point.

And the second shot came after Speaker Longworth had called him on the telephone and told him, just after the Senate had voted for the debenture the second time, that he would let his House vote on it the following day. This "vigorous" message was designed to keep the House members in line but was hardly necessary. It was most certainly not intended as a slow of the mailed fist.

It is a matter of plain fact, Mr. Hoover let go of his first stinger after Senator Watson had asked him to have the votes to kill the debenture then and there. The senator was in error, of course, but that is beside the point.

And the second shot came after Speaker Longworth had called him on the telephone and told him, just after the Senate had voted for the debenture the second time, that he would let his House vote on it the following day. This "vigorous" message was designed to keep the House members in line but was hardly necessary. It was most certainly not intended as a slow of the mailed fist.

It is a matter of plain fact, Mr. Hoover let go of his first stinger after Senator Watson had asked him to have the votes to kill the debenture then and there. The senator was in error, of course, but that is beside the point.

And the second shot came after Speaker Longworth had called him on the telephone and told him, just after the Senate had voted for the debenture the second time, that he would let his House vote on it the following day. This "vigorous" message was designed to keep the House members in line but was hardly necessary. It was most certainly not intended as a slow of the mailed fist.

It is a matter of plain fact, Mr. Hoover let go of his first stinger after Senator Watson had asked him to have the votes to kill the debenture then and there. The senator was in error, of course, but that is beside the point.

And the second shot came after Speaker Longworth had called him on the telephone and told him, just after the Senate had voted for the debenture the second time, that he would let his House vote on it the following day. This "vigorous" message was designed to keep the House members in line but was hardly necessary. It was most certainly not intended as a slow of the mailed fist.

It is a matter of plain fact, Mr. Hoover let go of his first stinger after Senator Watson had asked him to have the votes to kill the debenture then and there. The senator was in error, of course, but that is beside the point.

And the second shot came after Speaker Longworth had called him on the telephone and told him, just after the Senate had voted for the debenture the second time, that he would let his House vote on it the following day. This "vigorous" message was designed to keep the House members in line but was hardly necessary. It was most certainly not intended as a slow of the mailed fist.

It is a matter of plain fact, Mr. Hoover let go of his first stinger after Senator Watson had asked him to have the votes to kill the debenture then and there. The senator was in error, of course, but that is beside the point.

And the second shot came after Speaker Longworth had called him on the telephone and told him, just after the Senate had voted for the debenture the second time, that he would let his House vote on it the following day. This "vigorous" message was designed to keep the House members in line but was hardly necessary. It was most certainly not intended as a slow of the mailed fist.

No, it is not that Mr. Hoover has gone out and asked the House to go along with him to crush the Senate. It is that he has been drawn into the struggle for dominance between the two legislative branches.

Messrs. Longworth, Tilson and Snell have been reading much of the days of Joe Cannon and Tom Reed. They are thirsting for power for the prestige that their caustic predecessors held. They would return the House to the position of eminence, of dominance, that it occupied under these leaders, and naturally that appeals to the rank and file.

But, for the very nature of things, the House can not rise to any heights unless it submits to caustic rule. Its only claim to anything in its "efficiency," and that efficiency is conditioned upon three men laying a fast and hard rule. Should they relax for an instant, the body would be a raving maniac.

THE House began to get its hold on Mr. Hoover early. It took over his campaign at a time when he was very glad to have assistance. And then it took him over after the campaign. It surrounded him on every side. There is Jim Good, of the House tradition, in the Cabinet, Walter Newton, right at the White House at his side, Franklin Fort—Farmer Fort, the agriculturalist used to call him sardonically—and Speaker Longworth, himself, apparently riding high.

These men are all undoubtedly well intentioned but they should not take Mr. Hoover along with them in their crusade to break the Senate. It is a hard thing to do without some tempers being lost.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

Why, it is even reasonable to assume that the Senate, after all, is Mr. Hoover's best friend. At least it looks as though the Democratic-Progressive coalition may save him on the tariff—move really represents a divorce from the House. That would certainly be an ironic answer to the vicious attack it has received at the hands of the friendly Hoover press and from his Democratic Cabinet member, Charles Francis Adams.

HOOPER APPROVES NAVY PROMOTIONS

Three Capital Commanders on List Recommended for Captaincies.

5 NAMED REAR ADMIRALS

President Hoover yesterday approved the report of the Line Selection Board of the Navy Department recommending the promotion of five captains to rear admirals, 21 commanders to captains, and 27 lieutenant commanders to commanders.

As vacancies occur in the various grades the names of the men approved by President Hoover will be submitted to the Senate for confirmation. Usually each officer listed for promotion has stepped up one grade by the time the selection board sits again.

The five selected for promotion to rear admirals are: Capt. Arthur Jay Hepburn, chief of staff in command of the battle fleet; Capt. Thomas Charles Hart, inspector of ordnance in charge of the Naval Torpedo School at Newport, R. I.; Capt. Orin Gould Murfin, commander of the U. S. S. West Virginia; Capt. Walter Russell Sexton of Naval Operations; and Acting Rear Admiral William Daniel Leahy, chief of the Bureau of Ordnance.

Three Capital Men Included.
Among the 21 commanders recommended for captaincies, three make their homes in Washington. They are: Commander Vaughn K. Coman, 2724 Thirty-fourth street northwest; Commander Russell Willson, 2940 Albemarle street northwest; and Commander Leigh Noyes, at the Riggs National Bank. The other names for promotion are: Arthur K. Atkins, Herbert E. Kays, John J. London, Alexander S. Wadsworth, Jr., James S. Woods, John M. Small, William F. Underwood, Fredrick C. Sherman, Percy K. Robinson, Wadleigh Capheart, Lyle Ament, Hugh M. Branham, Edwin J. Gilliam, Frank H. Luck, Morris S. Brown, Donald B. Frank, Charles J. Moore, Thomas Moran, Frank H. Kelly, Jr., and James A. Logan.

Capt. Hepburn will be in all probability the first to be promoted to rear admiral. It is expected that his name will be sent shortly to the Senate for confirmation to succeed Rear Admiral Thomas Washington, who retired from the service June 6.

The selection board named Capt. Hepburn for promotion last year, together with four others, but a vacancy never arose for him to fill. The board consequently placed his name on the list this year.

Capt. Hepburn entered the Naval Academy in 1888. He served during the Spanish-American War and was awarded a special medal for "recognition of gallant conduct in assisting in rescuing crews from the burning Spanish ship after the battle of Santiago de Cuba on July 3, 1898." During the World War he commanded the submarine base at Queenstown, Ireland, and the aircraft operations on the southern coast of Ireland. For this he was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal.

Following the World War, Capt. Hepburn was made chief of staff of the commander of the U. S. naval forces in Turkish waters and later chief of staff of the commander in chief of the battle fleet. In 1926 he was named director of naval intelligence at the Navy Department.

Capt. Hepburn makes his home at 2109 Woodley road northwest. Unless something unforeseen happens, the second vacancy in the ranks of the rear admirals will not occur until spring. Capt. Hart, who is named for promotion on the list, was appointed to the Naval Academy in 1898 from Michigan. He was commissioned a captain in February, 1921. He holds a Naval War College diploma and an Army War College diploma.

Awarded Service Medal.
At the close of the World War he was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for exceptionally meritorious service in a duty of great responsibility as commanding officer of two divisions of submarines. One went to Ponta Delgada, Azores, and the other to Bantry Bay, Ireland, and establishing the submarine patrol and methods of operation. Also for distinguished service under the chief of operations in the performance of duty in connection with submarines.

Capt. Murfin was awarded also the Distinguished Service Medal for his service during the last war. His citation reads: "For exceptionally meritorious service in a duty of great responsibility in charge of the United States mine base in Scotland. The extremely successful part played by the United States Navy in the laying of the northern mine barrage was largely due to the pioneer work performed by Capt. Murfin in the establishment of the base and the development and administration of the industrial organization required."

The British government also awarded Capt. Murfin the Order of St. Michael and St. George. Capt. Murfin entered the Naval Academy in 1899 from Ohio. He holds a Naval War College diploma. Capt. Sexton was born in Monmouth, Ill., September 13, 1876, and was appointed to the Naval Academy from his home State in 1893. He holds a Naval War College diploma and the Navy Cross "for distinguished service in the line of his profession as aid on the staff of commandant, U. S. naval forces in European waters" during the World War.

Fifth Chosen for Emergency.
In the course of an ordinary year there are at least four vacancies in the rank of rear admiral. It is not unusual, however, for a fifth admiral to either die or ask to be retired. For this reason, the selection board always appoints a fifth admiral who can be promoted when such eventualities occur.

Admiral Leahy, who holds his present rank solely by virtue of his office as chief of the Bureau of Ordnance, is the last one on the list. There are chances that he will not be promoted (just as Capt. Hepburn continued in his old rank last year). Should Admiral Leahy be detached from his present duties before he is promoted he would lose his rank and revert to a captain.

Admiral Leahy was born in Hampton, Iowa, on May 6, 1876, and appointed to the Naval Academy from Wisconsin in 1893. He holds a Navy Cross "for distinguished service in the line of his profession as aid on the staff of commandant, U. S. naval forces in European waters" during the World War.

TRIO OF CAPTAINS PROMOTED TO REAR ADMIRALS

These three Navy captains were elevated to the rank of rear admirals yesterday when President Hoover approved recommendations of the selection board of the Navy. Left to right—Walton Rosewell, Sexton, William Daniel Leahy and Thomas Charles Hart.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE GRADUATES 46 BOYS

Prizes Are Awarded Students From Various Showings of Excellence.

REV. E. L. BUCKEY SPEAKS

Forty-six boys were awarded diplomas last night at the closing exercises of St. John's College held at Carroll Hall.

The Rev. Edward L. Buckey, pastor of St. Matthew's Church, presided, and the address to the graduates was delivered by the Rev. Eugene J. Connelly, pastor of St. Peter's Church. Lee F. Dante, a member of the graduating class and the winner of the faculty prize for academic excellence, delivered the valedictory.

Other prize winners were announced as follows: William T. Hannan, the scholarship to Catholic University; Thomas F. McCarthy, Leo Kolb gold medal for English essay; William T. Hannan, the Bishop Shahan gold medal for oratory; Edward C. Barnes, the T. P. Moran gold medal for eloquence; Joseph A. King, the alumni prize for mathematics; Robert E. Bourke, the alumni prize for science; Maj. Ray Osborn, the medal for the highest ranking officer; Corp. V. D. Jones, the medal for best drilled cadet in Company A; Edward Cason, the medal for best drilled cadet in Company B; and Vincent Toomey, the best drilled cadet in Company C.

Other graduates were: Andrew A. Turner, Francis Ashby, Joseph Michael Barker, Frederick Campbell Clark, Aeneas Patrick Collins, Richard Nevitt Crick, Benjamin Francis Cright, Joseph George Dondero, Stephen Joseph Frank, John Gregor Hill, John Francis Heron, Joseph Bernard Hudson, Eugene Joseph King, Joseph E. Kolb, Jr., John Henry Kramer, Anthony Henry Lash, Emmett Joseph Leahy, Joseph Nelson Lucas.

John Joseph McDonnell, Joseph Bernard Myers, Ardie Patrick O'Hanlon, Henry Murray O'Hanlon, Albert Bannings Parks, David Loyola Reidy, James Lawrence Reidy, Hayden Joseph Ricketts, Charles Edward Roach, Jr., John August Schlegel, Vincent de Paul Simmons, James Joseph Springmann, John Lawrence Sullivan, Cecil Calvert Tighe, John William Troy, Henry Tighe, John Francis Walsh, Joseph Matthew Wheatley, Joseph Edwin Woodburn, John Kenneth Yeatman, Anthony Joseph Zell.

Man Injured by Auto Sumbucks.
William Geese, who was injured June 8 in an automobile accident in Maryland, died last night at Casualty Hospital. At the time of his injury it was said that he had a fracture of the skull and leg and numerous cuts and bruises. Coroner Nevitt was notified, and probably will issue a release of the body to Maryland authorities today.

Relative Danger of Auto And Plane Fixed at 1 to 75

Statisticians Find One Life Is Lost for Every 170,960
Miles of Air Navigation. Death Rate in Motor Car Driving Is One in Every 6,001,219 Miles.

New York, June 14 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—Man has now reached the point in his development of air navigation when it is only 75 times as dangerous to operate a plane for a given number of miles as to drive an automobile for a trip of the same length, according to computation made from figures just released by F. C. Martel, chief of the statistical bureau of the aeronautics branch of the Department of Commerce.

Aviation accidents in the United States took 384 lives in 1928, Mr. Martel reported. The total distance flown by all aircraft, civilian, commercial and Government, during 1928, according to the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce estimates that 24,936 persons were killed in motor accidents in the United States during 1928. There were 24,493,124 cars, which, according to the chamber's estimate, traveled 6,000 miles each. Computation shows that one life

Girl's Fall Turns Gas On; Sends Phone Alarm

New York, June 14 (U.P.).—Two things which Allice Phillips, 21, a manicurist, accidentally accomplished when she slipped and fell while alone in her apartment today, at the same time nearly caused her death and saved her life.

In falling, she struck her head against an unswitched gas heater, turning on two jets. But she also knocked over her telephone.

The phone operator heard groans and notified police. Patrolman John McConnell found the manicurist unconscious from gas. He revived her and took her to Bellevue Hospital.

During the short-lived electrical storm last night shortly before midnight, a dozen passengers homeward bound on a street car were given the circle the motors blazed up. Despite the heavy rain several of the passengers, believing the car had been struck by lightning ran outside. No one was injured, and the fire was soon extinguished. The blaze was attributed to a short circuit.

This was the only excitement incident to the storm, which lasted only a few minutes but which succeeded in relieving Washington of the oppressive heat which had held the city in its grip during the day and early evening. Torrential rain marked the storm in the downtown section, while in the outlying residential communities hail was reported.

The high temperature yesterday, as recorded at the Weather Bureau, was 93 degrees. Today's forecast is for cloudy weather with little change in temperature.

Jury Holds Mother in Poisoning of Boy

Havre de Grace, Md., June 14 (A.P.).—A coroner's jury tonight held Mrs. Hattie Stone, 40-year-old widow, for action of the September grand jury in a charge of murder in connection with the death of her 15-year-old son George, on June 4. Mrs. Stone was not present at the inquest, but was being questioned by the grand jury at the Harford County Courthouse at Belair.

Evidence of poison were found in the vicars of George by Baltimore chemists. The fourth member of the Stone family to die under similar circumstances inside of three years.

Washington Typothetae Will Hold Outing Today

Members of the Typothetae of Washington will hold their annual outing today at Chapel Point. More than 200 persons are scheduled to make the trip. Automobiles carrying the picnicers are scheduled to leave the Monument promptly at 10 o'clock.

The day will be spent in athletic contests, fishing, boating and swimming, concluding in the late afternoon with a shore dinner. Another feature will be the annual baseball game between the printers and supply men of Washington.

Trade Group Favors School Budget.
Approval of the budget as submitted by the Board of Education, particularly regarding lamps and buildings, was expressed in resolutions by the school committee of the Board of Trade at a luncheon meeting at the City Club yesterday.

CAPITAL GAINS RADIO TELEGRAPH SERVICE

Harbord Announces Chain to Link Great Cities in U. S. and Abroad.

29 STATIONS ARE PLANNED

New York, June 14 (U.P.).—A domestic radio system serving the United States through stations in fourteen strategic cities and competing with the leading telegraph companies will be established immediately, Gen. James O. Harbord, president of the Radio Corporation of America, announced today. The system was made possible by the recent grant to the corporation of ten exclusive radio channels and five shared channels. Later, it was hoped the system could be expanded to other large cities by obtaining additional channels.

The service will be operated by the R. C. A. Communications, Inc., recently organized subsidiary of the Radio Corporation. It's first stations will be at New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle, Denver, New Orleans, Kansas City, Detroit, Cincinnati, Cleveland, St. Louis, Boston and Washington.

"Later on we hope to extend the system," Gen. Harbord said, "to the full list of 29 cities contemplated in our original application to the Federal Radio Commission, as soon as the additional wave lengths are made available. These cities, in addition to those mentioned, are Philadelphia, Miami, Fla., Savannah, Ga., Minneapolis, Minn., Memphis, Tenn., Pittsburgh, Pa., Houston, Tex., St. Paul, Minn., N. Y., Portland, Me., Rochester, N. Y., Schenectady, N. Y., Portland, Ore., Milwaukee, Wis., and eventually many others."

The most significant result of the new service," Harbord said, "will be to bring Europe, South America and the Orient closer to America through radio's new and efficient avenues of communication."

Wife Granted Divorce As Mate's Suit Fails

Granting of a limited divorce to Mrs. Myra Swiney from Thomas J. Swiney, Justice of the Supreme Court yesterday ended litigation begun more than a year ago. Swiney began the action by having his wife and a son arrested on a statutory charge. Mrs. Swiney was first convicted, granted a new trial after Judge Robert E. Marquand inspected the house in which she had been arrested and then exonerated at a second trial.

Swiney sued for absolute divorce, basing his complaint on the arrest of his wife and the codefendant, Mrs. Swiney, for a statutory charge. Mrs. Swiney's suit for a divorce was dismissed last week and his wife's granted yesterday.

Five Schoolboys Chosen in Edison Contest Here

Five public-school boys, two from parochial schools and one from a private school, are being considered by the District of Columbia Edison scholarship committee. One will be selected to represent the District in the national group from which Thomas Alva Edison was chosen to carry on his work. Decision is expected Monday.

The boys under consideration are John Henry William, Central High School; Milton McKinley, Belmont; John Paul Rapoport, Business; Reginald Rutherford, Western; Will Radford Anderson, Armstrong; Albert B. Parks, St. John's; Arthur P. Hepburn, Gonzaga; and Charles W. Hopkins, Woodward Y. M. C. A.

Merchants Ask Fixing of U. S. District Debt

A resolution asking that experts be appointed to study fiscal relations between the District government and the Federal Government to determine what proportion of District expense the Federal Government should pay was adopted yesterday by the board of governors of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association.

Retention of the $1.70 tax rate on real estate was favored by the board. Provision for an armory in the Capital in the five-year budget plan of the District was endorsed. Reports of a committee making a study of the need for more traffic lights will be heard next week.

$7,400 IN DUTIES PAID BY MRS. C. C. RUMSEY

Sum Includes Penalties for Failure to Declare Goods
She Bought Abroad.

SHE PLEADS "IGNORANCE"

New York, June 14 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—Mrs. Charles Cary Rumsey, widow of the sculptor-pole player and daughter of the railroad magnate, was ordered today by Treasury and customs officials to pay a total of $7,400 in penalties and duties on goods she brought in Wednesday on the French liner Paris, and which she had neglected to declare.

Mrs. Rumsey, herself a well-known patron of the arts, frankly admitted her neglect, explaining her failure as "pure ignorance" on her part. She declared wearing apparel, which cost her $1,500, and paid duty on it. The articles on which she was fined included a mink coat, gowns, lingerie and other clothing, appraised at $3,700. She was assessed to pay twice that amount before she could recover them.

Jewelry valued at $100,000, including a string of 189 pearls worth $50,000, was returned to Mrs. Rumsey without duty or penalty when she proved by insurance policies that she had owned them long before her trip to Europe. Two other pieces of jewelry, a small jeweled mirror and a pin made up of jewels, which she had taken with her, were assessed duty. The Government decided it was her property, although it was not in her possession when she left France. Senora Bori is a Spanish subject, and as such is entitled to bring personal belongings duty free.

Mrs. Rumsey came to the customs house with Mrs. James F. Currier, of Washington, a friend, and John Loughran, her attorney. She was taken before Deputy Collector Henry C. Stuart, assistant customs solicitor George M. Brewer, and Gordon Pike, special agent. Also present was J. J. McCardie, the inspector whose suspicions prompted him to seize Mrs. Rumsey's baggage on the French liner. The examination was held in private.

Law School Opens Summer Session

Eleven-Week Term of National University to Start
This Afternoon.

The sixty-first summer term of National University Law School and the sixth for the school of economics and government opens this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Registration for the eleven-week term has been heavy in both schools, and officials report that the enrollment is ahead of last year's. Many old students are taking courses looking toward higher degrees, and in preparation for bar examinations.

The summer sessions are under the direction of Dean Charles Pergler, of the school of economics and government. In the absence of Dr. Charles F. Carroll, chairman of the university and dean of law school, the assistant dean, John L. Cassin, will operate the law school.

District Legion Head Names Welfare Chief

Austin S. Imrie has been named director of welfare and relief for the District of Columbia Department of the American Legion and all relief work of the legion will be handled through his office, 211 Transportation Building. Imrie was formerly director of military relief of the Potomac Division of the American Red Cross and director of camp service of that organization.

Centralization of the legion's welfare work, it is believed by Marian Wood, department commander, who made the appointment, will prevent overlapping of relief work. The $12,500 available for relief work for the remainder of the year, that amount coming from the Community Chest budget.

MOVEMENTS OF STEAMSHIPS

ARRIVED FRIDAY.
Aquitania, from Southampton.
George Washington, from Bremen.
New Amsterdam, from Rotterdam.

SAILED SATURDAY.
Homeric, for Southampton.
Conte Biancamano, for Genoa.
Frederick, for Bremen.
Saxanburg, for Antwerp.
Minnesota, for Hamburg.
Exceller, for Genoa.
Hector, for London.
Hector, for London.
Albert Ballin, for Hamburg.
Bohemia, for Liverpool.
Adriatic, for Liverpool.
Minnesota, for London.

REPORTED BY RADIO.
Transylvania, from Moscow: due at pier 58, North River, Saturday.
St. De Comilla, from Barcelona: due at pier 58, North River, Sunday.
Lituania, from Danzig: due at Forty-third street, Brooklyn, Sunday.
Gripholm, from Gothenburg: due at pier 56, North River, Sunday.
Caronia, from Southampton: due at pier 56, North River, Monday.
Samsara, from Liverpool: due at pier 56, North River, Monday.
Edo, from Antwerp: due at pier 59, North River, Monday.
West of India, from London: due at pier 58, North River, Monday.
St. Louis, from Hamburg: due at pier 58, North River, Monday.
Roma, from Genoa: due at pier 57, North River, Monday.
Rochambeau, from Havre: due at pier 57, North River, Monday.
Le de France, from Havre: due at pier 57, North River, Monday.
Maestric, from Southampton: due at pier 59, North River, Tuesday.

THE GREAT ATLANTIC & PACIFIC TEA CO. A&P ESTABLISHED 1859 "WHERE ECONOMY RULES"

Always Ahead in Value Giving!

New Pack Early June Peas, 3 Cans 28c

A&P—S'FIELD FLOUR 12-lb. Bag 45c
GOLD MEDAL—PILLSBURY FLOUR 12-lb. Bag 55c
ENCORE MACARONI 4 Pkgs. 25c
QUAKER MAID 3 Cans 25c
LIBBY'S SLICED PINEAPPLE Lge. Can 25c
Del Monte PEACHES Lge. Can 23c; 2 Buffet Tins 15c
Del Monte ASPARAGUS TIPS Picnic Tin 17c
Del Monte FRUITS for SALAD No. 1 Tin 25c

The Whole Wheat Cereal Shredded Wheat, 2 Pkgs. 19c

National Biscuit Company COCONUT ORANGE DELIGHTS Lb. 25c
LEMONADE PUFFS 3 Cakes 20c
CHOC. NECTARS 2 Lb. 23c
Palmolive Soap 3 Cakes 20c
Crispo Fig Bars Fresh Baked 2 Lb. 23c

IN OUR MEAT MARKETS
Fancy LEG of LAMB Lb. 35c
Iowa Lunch Loaf 1/4 lb. 15c
Baked Fresh Ham 1/4 lb. 20c
Cooked Ham 1/4 lb. 20c
Sliced Dried Beef 1/4 lb. 20c
Cooked Corn Beef 1/4 lb. 10c
Tongue Loaf 1/4 lb. 15c
Cottage Cheese 1/4 lb. 20c
Potato Salad 1/4 lb. 20c

BOKAR COFFEE 1/2-Lb. Tin 23c; Lb. 45c
MAXWELL HOUSE COFFEE Lb. 49c
ORIENTA—LORD CALVERT Lb. 49c
WHITE HOUSE EVAP. MILK 3 Tall Cans 25c
WILDMERE FRESH EGGS Carton of 12 42c
FANCY CREAMERY BUTTER Lb. 49c
PURE LARD, bulk only 2 Lb. 27c
NUTLEY, nut margarine Lb. 23c

FRESH FRUITS & VEGETABLES
Fancy Red Ripe WATERMELONS Each 65c
California Fresh Green PEAS 3 Lbs. 25c
Fresh Bunch BEETS 2 Bunches 15c
Cantaloupes Each 17c
BURT'S 1343 F

CHASE C. GOVE.
Deputy Second Assistant and Chief Clerk, Postoffice Department.

EVENTS OF INTEREST IN SOCIETY CIRCLES OF CAPITAL

Wedding Plans
Magnet For Noted FamiliesKin Assembling in Boston for Lodge-Braggiotti Ceremony.

By JEAN ELIOT.

MR. HENRY CABOT LODGE, 2D, grandson of the late Henry Cabot Lodge, who has been away from Washington for a year on a trip around the world, is hastening homeward to be best man at the marriage of his younger brother, Mr. John Davis Lodge, and Miss Francesca Braggiotti, daughter of Mr. Isadore Braggiotti, of Boston, which is set for July 6. The ceremony will be in the Church of the Advent, Boston, and afterward there will be a wedding breakfast for a small company at Mr. Braggiotti's home.

The younger Mr. Lodge lives in New York, but he is the son of Mrs. George Cabot Lodge, of Washington, and on both sides his forebears have been prominent in the life of the Capital for a generation. His mother, who was Miss Elizabeth Davis, is the daughter of Mrs. Charles McCawley, and his sister, Miss Helena Lodge, made her debut here, being presented several years ago at a tea given by Mrs. McCawley.

The "Braggiotti girls"—there are several and all charming—have been occasional visitors here. The two eldest were close friends of Mrs. Frederick H. Gillett's daughters, Miss Frances Hoar and Miss Louise Hoar, and used to be associated with them in the days when the Hoar girls were star members of Boston's famous Vincent Club. The former Miss Frances Hoar is now Mrs. Reginald Foster, and Miss Louise Hoar married Mr. Christopher LaFarge, son of the famous artist, Mr. John LaFarge.

Kin of Bride-to-Be Assemble for Wedding.

A brother of Miss Braggiotti, Mr. Isidore Mario Braggiotti, who is to be one of the ushers, is coming home from Paris for the wedding, and the bride's father has recently returned after a long sojourn in California. Miss Gloria Braggiotti will be her sister's maid of honor and her only other attendants will be three little girls, Rosemond Higgins and Dorothy Chase, train bearers, and Cynthia Sportwell, flower girl.

Besides Mr. Isidore Mario Braggiotti, the group of ushers will include another brother of the bride, Mr. Sebastiano Herbert Braggiotti, of New York; Mr. John Wood, of New York; Mr. Charles Van Brunt Cushman, of Pomfret, Conn.; Mr. Matthias Fium, Jr., of Rumson, N. J.; Mr. Thomas Gordon Wheelock, of Chicago; Mr. William White Ingalls, of Lebanon and Cambridge; Mr. John Davis, of Dover; Mr. Iva Sergei Voldatopatchvitch, and Mr. John Lawrence Mott 3d, both of New York.

The couple will go abroad on their honeymoon and will live in New York, where Mr. Lodge is practicing law. He was graduated from Harvard University in 1925 and has just completed his course at the Harvard Law School. Miss Braggiotti passed several summers in Newport and has friends in Washington, New York and several other cities.

Mr. Henry Cabot Lodge is due in Boston on July 2 and on July 4 will give a bachelor dinner for his brother and the group of ushers at the Fox Club in Cambridge. He married Miss Emily Sears, of Boston.

Japanese Ambassador
Defers Vacation Trip.

The Japanese Ambassador and Mrs. Debuchi, who had planned to go today

En Route to Bermuda for Honeymoon

MRS. WILLIAM THOMAS MANN, formerly Miss Nancy Beale. Her marriage took place yesterday in St. Thomas' Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lewis Beale.

Debutante Is Bride at Close Of Gay SeasonMiss Nancy Beale Married to Mr. William T. Mann in Capital.

Miss Nancy Sims Beale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lewis Beale, rounded out a successful debutante season yesterday with her marriage to Mr. William Thomas Mann. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Thomas Mann, West Virginians who have been residents of the Capital for a score of years, and the bride has been identified with our social fabric for at least two generations. She is a granddaughter of former Representative Thetis Sims, of Tennessee, and her mother was one of the several charming Sims girls, all popular in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Sims came from their present home in Lexington, Tenn., to attend the wedding, and others present of the Sims clan were Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Riddick and Mrs. William Joyner, of Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. Meade, of West Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brownlow, of New Jersey. Mrs. Brownlow was Miss Elizabeth Sims and Mrs. Riddick, Miss Marie Sims. Mr. Brownlow was at one time District Commissioner.

The wedding yesterday in St. Thomas' Church, at 4 o'clock, the bride decked its Gothic aisles, with ferns banking the chancel, and white peonies filling the tall vases on the altar. The Rev. Dr. C. Ernest Smith, rector of St. Thomas', performed the ceremony.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a gown of ivory satin made on straight lines, the bodice having a yoke of duchesse and rose point lace and long fitted sleeves. The skirt had circular panels at the sides and the long train was of satin. The bride's veil was of tulle, softly arranged about the head with clusters of orange blossoms. She carried call lilies.

Mrs. Chester Snow, Jr., is Matron of Honor. Miss Beale's youthful aunt, Mrs. Chester Snow, Jr., under whose chaperonage she made her debut in the winter was her matron of honor. She wore a gown of orchid chiffon and tulle. Miss Betty Beale, younger sister of the bride, who was maid of honor, was in turquoise chiffon, and the bridesmaids wore peach color. They were Miss Marian Jardine, Miss Beth Davies, Miss Churchill Owen, of Denver, sister of Mr. Mann, and Miss Betty Brownlow, cousin of the bride.

All their frocks were fashioned with flounced skirts, dipping gracefully in the back, and with soft fluttering capes from the shoulders. They all wore picture hats of straw to match their

Charming Bride

MRS. JOHN F. C. PATOKA, formerly Miss Katherine Sappay, snapped in the garden of the Grace Dodge Hotel, where a breakfast was held following her marriage on Wednesday.

costumes and carried armfuls of spring flowers in yellow, rose, blue and mauve. Mr. Jasper DuBois was best man. The ushers included Mr. Robert Stead, Mr. Chester Lockwood, Mr. Chester A. Snow, Jr., Mr. Emmora Smith, Mr. Barnett Talbot, Mr. John Sweeney, Mr. William Beale, Jr., and Mr. Eugene Roberts.

The reception which followed the ceremony was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mann in Sixteenth street, chosen for its spaciousness, since the Beales have a small house.

Later in the afternoon Mr. Mann and his bride left for a honeymoon in Bermuda, the latter wearing a cocoa-brown silk ensemble, with a printed chiffon blouse and a hat and accessories to match. They will make their home in Washington.

Mrs. Gibson Fahnestock is at the Ambassador in New York before going to Newport.

Baron Korff
Weds Keystone State ResidentMiss Sylvia Scott Given in Marriage by Her Father.

Of interest to Washington is the marriage of Miss Sylvia Scott, of Chestnut Hill, Pa., to Baron Serge Alexander Korff, son of Baroness Korff, which took place yesterday afternoon in the Trinity Presbyterian Church in Chestnut Hill at 4:30 o'clock, with a reception afterward at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bryan Scott. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Corydon C. Tyler. The church decorations were white peonies and Easter lilies against a background of cambridia ferns.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of ivory satin, trimmed with family duchesse lace. Her veil of tulle was held in place by a bandeau of cloth of gold, caught with orange blossoms. She wore a corsage of white orchids and carried a white leather prayer book with lily of the valley streamers.

Miss Eleanor Scott was maid of honor, wearing a dress of cream lace over yellow, made with a flounce and cape of yellow tulle. Her hat was of matching horsehair and she carried blue delphinium.

The bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Korff, Miss Pauline Pease, Miss Mary

CONTINUED ON PAGE 8, COLUMN 4.

The "Ruffway"
by Stetson

Ideal for walking or for a hike in this shoe made of oil dressed tan grain calfskin heavily perforated and foxed. Leather sole and heels. Kilie tongues protect the instep.

$12.50

The Stetson Shoe Shop of Raleigh Haberdasher
1310 F Street

Paulina
Sports
Frock

A green 2-piece light - weight wool sport dress of Bohemian spun cloth.
Wide suede le-ther belt.

$19.75

THE WOMAN'S SHOP OF Raleigh Haberdasher
1310 F Street

WARDMAN PARK HOTEL announces
SUMMER INNOVATION
"PLAGE DEAUVILLE"
Tea Dances four to six
Special Tea, $1.00
"Dinner" Parfait, $2.00
MEYER DAVIS CLUB CHANTEUR ORCHESTRA
Innocent weather dances in Summer Ballroom
SUPPER DANCE
Each Saturday Starting at 10 P. M.
Summer Ballroom.

Edmonston & Co.

INCORPORATED
No Branch Stores
612 13th St.
Carl M. Betz, Mgr.
Betz, F. & G. Sls.
West Side

SHELF CLEARANCE
A Sacrifice Sale of Footwear

About this time every year we find it good business to check up stock with an idea of clearing up before replenishing stock with complete lines.

Every shoe in the house with the exception of Physical Culture and Stacy-Adams shoes is reduced at least—

15%

$7.85 Shoes	$6.80	$12.50 Shoes	$10.63
$9.00 Shoes	$7.65	$13.00 Shoes	$11.05
$10.00 Shoes	$8.50	$13.50 Shoes	$11.48
$11.00 Shoes	$9.35	$14.00 Shoes	$11.90
$11.50 Shoes	$9.78	$14.50 Shoes	$12.33
$12.00 Shoes	$10.20	$15.00 Shoes	$12.75

Shoes for Men as Well as Women and Children
Are in the Sale

Edmonston & Co.
INCORPORATED

No Branch Stores
CARL M. BETZ, Mgr.

612 13th Street West Side—
Bet. F & G Sts.

A CURRENT ISSUE IN FOOTWEAR TOPICS

14.50

THE "OPERA" PUMP

—youthfully fashioned for its first bow as the superlative creation in an artistic slipper . . . executed in brilliancy of color and fabric to blend with the most meticulous dress ensembles.

ARTCRAFT
feminine footwear
1311 F St.

FOR BETTER SERVICE Be Sure Your Apartment is Under Wardman Management
"See Classified"

When the cupboard is bare and you don't feel domestically inclined!

Just breeze into

The Cavalier Cafe
3500 14th Street

For a dinner that will set your spirits up!
Prices are reasonable

New Amsterdam
- 2701 Fourteenth St. N.W.

The Personification of wisdom and economy in living is practiced by all the smart moderns who select the utter comfort of a furnished bachelor apartment at this unusual hotel-home!

Living-Bedroom, Buffet Kitchen and Bath

$65 Up Monthly

Frigidaires Maid Service

Restaurant

Rates by day, week or month.

J. E. BURGETT, Mgr.

Columbia 7400

WOODWARD & LOTHROP
10th 11th F and G Streets

Sheer Summer Smartness

—is the gossamer quality which the chic woman is exploiting in her stockings this season. She has this sheerness in her lisle sports stockings—her bare-leg stockings, as well as her fragile evening stockings.

These Are the New Summer Stockings

Fine Gauge Imported Lisle Stockings with Paris Clocks, in white, suntan, beige and gray, $2 pair. Other Lisle Stockings, $1 and $1.50 pair.

Novelty Fish Net and Self-Woven Patterned Chiffon Lisle Stockings, $1.50 and $2 pair.

Seamless "Bare-Leg" Chiffon Silk Stockings, $1.25 pair. Others $1.50 and $1.95 pair.

Sun-Socks in sheer silk, $1.50 pair.

Granite Chiffon Stockings with the exclusive garter blocks, $2 pair; three pairs, $5.85.

Jane Wandl Sheer Stockings with square or pointed heels, $2 and $3 pair.

New Jane Wandl Super-Sheer Silk Stockings, very fine gauge, clear weave, $4 pair.

New Large Mesh Fish Net Stockings, by McCallum, $3.95 pair.

Sheer Novelty Weave Stockings of finest chiffon—the first time shown, $6 pair.

In the smart shades complementary to one's summer clothes.

HOSIERY, AISLE 17, FIRST FLOOR.

DANN & CO.
F Street at 13th N.W.

Dann "Enters" the Stitched Crepe Hat for the Summer of 1929

Specially Priced

5 & 6.50

It's sure to be a sports success in the pastel tones of your dozen-and-one ensembles—and not to be overlooked for town in black, brown or navy.

Marvelous Collection of Fine Fur Felts
Values up to $10

6.50

WASHINGTON'S FINEST MEN'S WEAR STORE

Three Popular Oxfords For Sports and Dress by Stetson

The PARK... black and white... tan and white... smooth white calfskin with calfskin trimmings... flexible leather soles... $12.50 lengths 6 to 11... widths AAA to D.

The PAR... a perfect golf shoe... Shrewsbury grain calf with rusty saddle of Scotch grain... double leather soles and English type steel spikes. Complete range of sizes. $13.50

The BROGUE... wing tip model... fine smooth white calf with tan or black grain calf trimmings... heavily perforated... $13.50 lengths 6 to 11... widths AAA to D.

Raleigh Haberdasher
1310 F Street

CHRISTIAN CHURCH OF CHRIST
1400 St. and Maryland St. NW.
GEO. A. KLINGMAN, Minister.
SUNDAY SERVICES:
10:00 a. m.—Bible Class.
11:00 a. m.—and 8 p. m.—Sermons.

PRESBYTERIAN Central Presbyterian
SOUTHERN ASSEMBLY.
Intersection of Fifteenth and Irving Sts. NW.
Rev. JAMES B. TAYLOR, D. D., Pastor.
8:30 a. m.—Sunday School.
9:30 a. m.—Sermon by Dr. Taylor.
10:30 a. m.—Westminster League.
1:30 p. m.—Social Hour.
7:00 p. m.—C. E. Society.
8:00 p. m.—Sermon by Dr. Taylor.
8:30 p. m.—Thursday—Prayer Service.
Take 14th St. car or Mount Pleasant car or 16th St. bus to Irving St.

Church of The Pilgrims
On the Parkway
At 22d and P Sts. N.W.
Rev. Andrew R. Bird, Minister.
SUNDAY WORSHIP
11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M.
Conducted by the Minister.
Organ recital, 7:30 p. m.
A Cordial Welcome to All.

The New York Avenue Presbyterian Church
N. Y. Ave., 13th and 8 Sts.
REV. JOSEPH R. SIZOO, Minister.
11 A. M.—
"DIVINE APPROVAL."
2 P. M.—
"THE DANGER OF MIDDLE LIFE."
Sunday School, 9:45 A. M.
6:45 P. M.—
Christian Endeavor Service.

Church of the Covenant
Connecticut Ave. and 8 St. N.W.
JOHN D. GREGORY, Assistant.
9:45 a. m.—Sunday School.
11—Kindergarten.
11—Morning Worship. Sermon by REV. JOHN D. GREGORY
"God's Fellow-Workers" Covenant Quartet will sing Anthem.
"O Lamb of God" (Carré). Solo for contralto, "The Almshouse" (Schubert).
Anthem, "Behold Now, Praise Ye the Lord" (Felix).
7:00 p. m.—Christian Endeavor.
8 P. M., Thursday—Midweek Hour of Worship.

First Universalist Church
Rev. Frederic W. Perkins, D. D., Pastor.
SERVICES AT THE AMBASSADOR THEATER
18th St. and Columbia Rd. N.W.
June 16 at 11 A. M.
"The Renewal of Strength"
Union summer services begin June 23 at 11 A. M. at the Ambassador Theater.
Music Led by Visited Chorus Choir.
Dr. A. W. Harned, Organist and Director.
Kindergarten at the same hour.
Church school convenes at 12:15 p. m.
SEATS FREE. BRING YOUR FRIENDS.

EVANGELISTIC.
Come to the Big Convocation!
All-Day Program—Many Speakers.
Ministers, Evangelists, Missionaries.
Musical Features—Choir, Orchestra.
The Tabernacle
North Capital & K Sts.
Rev. Harry L. Collier Great Tabernacle Thank Offering.
Three Big Services.
10:45, 2:30 and 7:30.
Communion, New Members.
Consecration.
30 New Elders, Officers, Missionaries.
Supreme Evangelistic Service at 7:30
By the Popular Speaker and Radio Evangel
CHRISTINE PEIRCE of Toronto, Canada.
A Gospel Feast Awaits You!
Come Early—Amplifier for All.

ST. AGNES' CHURCH
4400 St. and 14th Sts. NW.
(Via Ave. of E. Capitol St. cars)
Sunday services, 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.
Evening and Intercessions, Friday, 8 p. m.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH
Lafayette Square.
SERVICES:
8 a. m.—Holy Communion.
11 a. m.—Morning Prayer and Sermon.
Dr. Johnston will preach.

Epiphany
G ST. NEAR 13TH
The REV. J. B. PHILLIPS, D.D.
The REV. JAMES W. MORRIS, D.D.
8:00 A. M.—Holy Communion.
9:45 A. M.—Church School.
11:00 A. M.—Dr. James W. Morris.
6:00 P. M.—Young People's Society.
8:00 P. M.—Rev. Lewis C. Webster.

Washington Cathedral
Wisconsin Avenue N.W.
Near Wadley Road
Holy Communion, 7:30 a. m.
Morning Prayer and Litany, 10 a. m.
Holy Communion and Sermon
Preacher, Canon Peter, 11:00 a. m.
Open Air Service and Sermon—
Preacher, the Rev. William A.
McClintock, D. D., of Mt. Calvary,
Baltimore, Md., 4:00 p. m.
Take Wisconsin Avenue Cars or Wadley Road Bus Line.

CONGREGATIONAL Mt. Pleasant
Congregational Church
1410 Columbia Road N.W.
11 A. M.—Dynamic Definitions of Life.
Communion Service

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL
10th and G Sts.
DR. JASON NOBLE PIERCE
Sunday, 11 A. M. and 8 P. M.
Thursday, 8 P. M.
Photoplays
SUNDAY
"The Valley of the Giants"
THURSDAY
"Lilac Time"
"Like Time" also shown Friday, 8 p. m.
Everyone invited. Free Will Offering
8 P. M., Thursday—Midweek Hour of Worship.

UNITARIAN All Souls' Church
Sixteenth and Harvard Streets Minister
Ulysses G. B. Pierce, D. D.
11:00 A. M.—Morning Worship.
Sermon by the Minister
"The Generous Mind"
FLORA McGUIRE KEENER.
Mento-Contralto.
CHARLES TROWBRIDGE TITTMANN.
Bass.
LEWIS ATWATER, Organ.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE (NEW) The Christian Science Parent Church Leader
Mrs. Annie C. Bill
Services at 11 A. M.
Assembly Room of HOTEL LAFAYETTE Subject
"Scientific Consistency"
16 Jackson Place
Sunday School 11 A. M.
Reading Room Daily From 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.

Radio Lecture
Sunday at 3 P. M.
Station WOL
Program Provided by The Christian Science Watchman, 16 Jackson Place.

CATHEDRAL SERMON BY GUEST PREACHER

Baltimore Rector's Message at Evensong Tomorrow to Be Broadcast.

MEN'S CLUB TO GIVE FETE

The Rev. Dr. William A. McClintock, rector of Mount Calvary Church of Baltimore, will be the special preacher at 8 o'clock tomorrow at the Peace Cross of Washington Cathedral. The people's open air evensong at the Peace Cross of Washington Cathedral. The service will be broadcast over WRC.

At the 11 o'clock service of the Holy Communion in Bethlehem Chapel the sermon will be preached by the Rev. Dr. G. Freeland, canon of Washington Cathedral. The music at this service and at the one in the afternoon will be furnished by the cathedral choir of men and boys, assisted by a brass quartet.

Acting Rector to Preach.
The Rev. Dr. James W. Morris, acting rector of the Church of the Epiphany during the absence of the Rev. Dr. Phillips, will conduct morning prayer and deliver the sermon at the 11 o'clock service tomorrow morning in the church at 11 o'clock. The service will be occupied by the Rev. Lewis C. Webster, newly ordained deacon in the Episcopal Church. The services will be held in the improvised chapel on the left of the church during repairs and redecoration to the latter.

At 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning the first session of the summer term of the Epiphany Church School will meet under the superintendence of the Rev. G. Harold Douglas.

Guest Preacher at St. Mark's.
The Rev. William Henry Pettus, of Everett, Mass., who has been attending the college of preachers at Washington Cathedral, will preach at the 11 o'clock service tomorrow morning at St. John's Church, Bethesda. Dr. Pettus was rector of St. Marks for six years before going to Massachusetts.

The young people's service at St. John's Church, Bethesda, will be resumed for the summer months at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The Rev. Clarence Prentice Parker will make a short address. The rector will preach at the 11 o'clock service. Holy Communion will be celebrated at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow morning and also at 7 o'clock Thursday morning. The service for spiritual healing and intercession will be conducted by Dr. Parker at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

The Men's Club of the Church of the Transfiguration will present a country carnival on the grounds of the parish next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. A different band will play each evening and there will be dancing from 9 until 12. It has been announced.

Activities in Summer Urged on Churchmen
Hot weather should not alter the devotion of a churchman to his church and his fellow churchmen. The national president of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, told the first meeting of the Potomac Assembly at the Church of St. Stephen and the Incarnation Tuesday.

"A churchman who loves human souls," he said, "is as active when the thermometer is 95 as when it is 20 degrees." Mr. Choate suggested open-air services, pilgrimages and services at summer camps and resorts as ideal programs for the hot months.

CATHOLIC ST. MARY'S CHURCH
5th St. N.W. bet. G and H Sts.
SUNDAY LOW MASSES
At 7:15, 8:15 and 9:15.
Last Mass at 11:30.
NOVENA
Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Wed., June 19, to Thurs., June 29, Rev. Rector, Dr. D. D. of Mt. Calvary, Baltimore, Md., 4:00 p. m.
Evening Devotions at 7:30.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL SOUTH MARVIN
Tenth and K Sts. SW.
REV. C. H. CANNON, Minister.
11 A. M.—DR. FREDERICK N. WHALEY, Lecturer, "The Church of the Future."
SAN MARCOS, TEX.
"Just Because I Love U"
8 P. M.—Sermon by the Pastor: "God and the Church."
THE FRIENDLY CHURCH.

MT VERNON PLACE
Southern Methodist Church
900 Massachusetts Ave. N.W.
W. A. LAMBETH, D. D., Pastor.
H. R. DEAL, Junior Preacher.
11 a. m.—"SPIRITUAL RENEWALS," the Pastor.
8 p. m.—"SUPREME SANCTITIES," the Pastor.
10 a. m.—JUNIOR CONGREGATION (in Sunday School and Bagel and Buns). "THE PROMISE OF GUIDANCE."
DR. CLIFFORD P. CLARK.
Sunday School, 9:30 A. M. (Primary Department, 9 A. M.).
Epworth League, 6:45 P. M.
8 P. M., Thursday, Prayer Meeting—Dr. Lambeth.
Quartet and Vested Choir.
R. DEANE SHURE, Director.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE Pan-American Union Head Sponsors Army Band Concert.
The General of the Pan-American Union, Dr. Leo S. Rowe, has issued invitations to a concert of Latin-American music by the United States Army Band, which will be given on the esplanade of the Pan-American Union on Tuesday evening, July 9, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Edward Douglas White has gone to New London, Conn. for the summer.
Mrs. S. Hallowell DuPont and her mother, Mrs. H. L. Wrenn, have taken an apartment in the Waldman Park Hotel for several weeks. Mrs. DuPont is the former Miss Elizabeth Wrenn.

Mrs. Arthur O'Brien will return tomorrow evening from New York, where she is passing a few days with her daughter, Miss O'Brien, who is the former Miss Elizabeth Wrenn.

Several Pastors to Preach On Flag and Father's Days

Pantomime, "The Children's Share," to Be Given at First Congregational. Union Summer Service Will Be Held at Unitarian Church.

Father's Day and Flag Day both will be observed in Protestant churches of the District and suburbs tomorrow.

A pantomime, "The Children's Share," will be presented at the First Congregational Church, 11th and G streets, northwest, in conjunction with the observance of Father's Day. Bibles will be presented to young people of the Sunday school who joined the church on profession of faith during the past year. Dr. Jason Noble Pierce, minister of the church, will preside at the evening service at 8 o'clock on "God's Giants." His sermon will be illustrated by the motion picture, "The Valley of the Giants," featuring Milton Sills and Doris Kenyon.

In recognition of Father's Day, the Rev. Earle Wilkey, pastor of the Vermont Avenue Methodist Church, will preach at the evening service on "I Honor My Father." His morning subject will be "There Came One Running." This sermon will be broadcast over WRC.

The Rev. W. A. Lambeth, pastor of the Mount Pleasant Church, will preach at both services tomorrow. His morning subject will be "Spiritual Renewal." In the evening he will preach on "The Church's Sanctities." The Rev. Clinton P. Clark, superintendent of the Sunday school, will address the junior congregation at 11 o'clock on "The Promise of Guidance."

"The Renewal of Strength" will be the subject of the Rev. Frederick W. Perkins, pastor of the Universalist Memorial Church, at 11 o'clock service in the Ambassador Theater. This will be the last service in the theater until September 8.

Union summer services will begin next Sunday, June 23, at All Souls' Church, 11th and G streets, N.W. Dr. Perkins will preach.

The Rev. Ulysses G. B. Pierce, pastor of the Unitarian Church, will preach at the 11 o'clock service tomorrow on "The Generous Mind." Holy Communion will be observed at the Albemarle Evangelical Church at the morning service at 11 o'clock. The Rev. George E. Schnabel, pastor of the church, will make his communion sermon topic "Do Not Fail Him." Dr. Schnabel's subject at the evening service will be "When Christ Comes Into a Church."

The Rev. Moses R. Lovell, pastor of the Mount Pleasant Congregational Church, will preach his last sermon tomorrow morning before leaving on his summer vacation. The Lord's Supper will be celebrated at the morning service. The church will be open for the reception of new members and will be closed for the remainder of the summer.

The Rev. E. H. Ewen will tell a sermon story at the evening service at 8:15 o'clock in the Centennial Baptist Church on "How a Man Won a Widow." His morning subject will be "A Paul daughter will not return to Washington until after the first of October."

Mrs. William DeWitt Mitchell, wife of the Attorney General, has gone to Lake Minn. for the rest of the season. Her mother, Mrs. Bancroft, and the two sons of Attorney General and Mrs. Mitchell went to the Lake some time ago.

Mrs. Delos A. Blodgett and Mrs. Charles G. Matthews will sail today on the Conte Biancamano for Italy, where they will visit their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. Harold C. Trower, British vice consul in Capri, and Mrs. Trower. Mrs. Blodgett will return in July and go to her summer home at Mackinac Island, and Mrs. Matthews will remain abroad through the summer.

Mrs. Dwight Chester, who now makes her home in New York with her son-in-law and daughter, Capt. and Mrs. Emory Land, has arrived in Washington and is at the Carlton.

Miss Marks to Entertain For Miss Eugenia Octavia.
Miss Helen Marks will entertain at luncheon today at the Columbia Country Club in honor of Miss Eugenia Octavia Sykes, whose marriage to Mr. Thomas Stephens will take place on Wednesday, and her attendants, including Miss Cornelia Covington and Miss Scott Henning, of Memphis, Tenn.; Miss Malvina Sykes, Miss Leone Shortwell and Miss Margaret Bynum, of Jackson, Miss.; Miss Leonore LaFont, Miss Ruth LaFont and Miss Constance LaFont, of Salt Lake City; Miss Alice Mary Cable, of Lima, Ohio, and Miss Carrie Roper Fulton, of this city.

Mrs. Chester Wells will not be at home tomorrow, nor will she receive again until her return from the country in the autumn. Capt. and Mrs. Wells are going to Welbeck Farm, their place at Wyalsburg, Pa., for the summer.

Miss Helen Gallier West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Perry West, who was graduated from Vassar College on June 11, is with her parents for the week. She will sail on June 21 for a three-months' tour of Europe, accompanied by both of her classmates.

Capt. Waldemar Sveshnikoff, who has been in the Philippines for the last year, has returned to Washington and is at the Racquet Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Williamson will entertain at dinner this evening at the Waldman Park Hotel in honor of the son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Chalmers.

Others who will entertain at that hotel this evening are Mrs. George L. Walter and Mr. J. M. Baer.

Lieut. Alfred R. Peley, of the Marine Corps, and Mrs. Peley, who since their recent marriage have been residing at the Marine barracks at Norfolk, Va., left yesterday by motor for Seattle. They will sail June 28 on the S. S. President Jefferson for the Orient, where Lieut. Peley has been assigned.

The principal lecturer of the Washington Conference of Preachers of Washington Cathedral will close today. The conference opened Monday.

The deliverer of the address was the Rev. John Rathbone Oliver, of Johns Hopkins University, the Rev. Leonard Hodgson, of the General Theological Seminary of New York, and the Rev. John Fort Newton, of Overbrook, Pa. The Right Rev. James E. Freeman, Bishop of Washington, welcomed the visitors and lectured on the importance of pastoral work. The Right Rev. Philip M. Rinaldi, archbishop of Philadelphia, and now warden of the college, presided.

Your telephone is a collecting agency for classified ads. Call National 4205 and put me to work for you. Washington Post Classified Ad.

SERIES OF QUESTIONS TO START AT SHILOH

Biblical Pageant to Be Given at People's Congregational Tomorrow Night.

CHILDREN'S DAY PLANNED

A series of sermons, based on Bible interrogations, will be commenced tomorrow by the Rev. J. Milton Waldron, who has just completed his twenty-second year as pastor of the Shiloh Baptist Institutional Church.

The subject of Dr. Waldron's sermon at the 11 o'clock morning service will be "Heaven—What Is It? and Who Is Going There?" At the evening service, at 8 o'clock, he will preach on "Who Made Man and for What Purpose?" At the People's Congregational Church, the Rev. A. F. Eames, the pastor, will preach at the morning service on "The Hunger for Life." A biblical pageant will be presented at the 8 o'clock service.

John Wesley Services.
The Rev. Henry D. Tillman, pastor of the John Wesley A. M. E. Zion Church, will preach at the morning service. Presiding Elder J. H. Tucker will preach at the evening service. Holy Communion will be administered at the conclusion of the latter service.

The Rev. J. A. Dames, the pastor, will preach at the 11 o'clock service of the Campbell A. M. E. Church. The Rev. H. Wesley, presiding elder of the Potomac District, will deliver a sermon at the quarterly meeting at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Holy Communion will be observed at this service. A special Children's Day service will be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow night under the auspices of the Sunday school.

Service at Lincoln.
"The Unanswered Question" will be the subject of the Rev. R. M. Brooks at the Lincoln Congregational Temple at the morning service. At 8 o'clock tomorrow night, the annual meeting of the George W. Grice Relief Association will be held. Dr. Brooks will preach the sermon.

The Rev. William D. Jarvis, pastor of the New Bethel Baptist Church, will preach on "Dining With the King" at the 11 o'clock service. Dr. Jarvis will preach at St. Luke's Baptist Church at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The Rev. Sheridan Lankford, pastor of the McKinley Memorial Baptist Church, will preach at both morning and evening services tomorrow.

Taylor Plans to Attend General Church Council
The Rev. James H. Taylor, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church, will attend the quadrennial meeting of the General Council of the Alliance of Reformed Churches in Boston next week. The meeting begins Wednesday and will last until Thursday of the following week.

The Rev. R. C. Gillie, for many years pastor of the Marylebone Presbyterian Church of London, who will be one of the principal speakers at the conference, will return to Washington with Dr. Taylor and will preach on Sunday, June 30, at the Central Presbyterian Church.

D. Roland Potter Named Christian Endeavor Head
Dr. Roland Potter was elected president of the District of Columbia Christian Endeavor Union at its annual meeting last week at the Washington Church of the Brethren. A. T. Minor was elected vice president, Mr. Minor as general secretary; Howard Doyle, recording secretary; Howard Cole, treasurer, Mrs. L. C. Greene, intermediate superintendent, and Mrs. Herman Smith, junior superintendent.

Dr. Irvin Stewart To Join A. U. Staff
Dr. Irvin Stewart, who served as assistant solicitor of the State Department from 1926 to 1928, and since then has been on the faculty of the University of Texas, has been appointed a full-time professor of political science at American University, where he will be associated this fall with the graduate school. Announcement of his appointment has been made by Dr. Lucius C. Clark, chancellor of the university.

During the time he was connected with the State Department, Dr. Stewart also acted as technical adviser to the American delegation to the international radiotelegraph conference of 1927. He is a member of the Texas bar and the bar of the United States Supreme Court.

Born in Fort Worth, Tex., October 27, 1890, he took his bachelor and master of arts degrees at the University of Texas. He is a native of the law school. He also has a degree of doctor of philosophy from Columbia University.

During the summer he will lecture on international law and foreign relations at the summer session at Columbia University.

Novena Will Be Held At St. Mary's Church
A novena in honor of Our Lady of Perpetual Help will begin at St. Mary's Church next Wednesday and will conclude on Thursday of the following week.

Daily masses will be held at 7 and 8 o'clock. Evening devotions, consisting of prayers, sermon and benediction, will be held at 7:30 o'clock. The novena will be directed by the Rev. Augustine Aylward, of the Redemptorist Fathers, of Annapolis, Md.

Justice Stafford Goes to Vermont.
Justice Wendell Phillips Stafford left this city yesterday for Burlington, Vt., where he will deliver the address to the graduates of the University of Vermont at graduation exercises on Monday. Justice Stafford is a native of Vermont and prior to his appointment to the bench of the District Supreme Court, served on the bench of his native State.

Teachers' Conference Planned.
A general conference for supervisors and teachers of vacation church schools will be held next Friday from 3 o'clock to 5 o'clock in the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church. An open discussion of methods will be held. The Rev. E. O. Clark will preside.

AMUSEMENTS
Marshall Hall
Charles Macalester
Leaves Tonight at 8:30
FREE DANCING—ALL AMUSEMENTS
ROUND TRIP, 50c

NATIONAL 10:30, 7:30 & 9:30
DAVID BELASCO'S
"THE GIRL OF THE GOLDEN WEST"
Next Week—"Loose Ankles"

RIALTO
9th & G
BERT LYELL
Gertrude Olmsted—Lillian Tashman
"THE LONE WOLF'S DAUGHTER" Mystery
SUSPENSE
THRILLS

ADDED SENSATION!
JULES BLEDSOE
In "OLD MAN TROUBLE"
Singing 2 Famous Songs

LOEW'S COLUMBIA
7 & 8 at 12:15—Cont. from 10:30
NOW PLAYING
A Paramount Picture
THE STUDIO MURDER MYSTERY
ALL-TALKING Neil Hamilton
Warner Oland Doris Hill ADDED ATTRACTIONS

FOX
Manufactured by Fox
Temperature of 75°
BEGINS TODAY
A Drama So Close to the Human Heart That No One Need Be Shamed by a Tear-Filled Eye
THE VALIANT PAUL MUNI
Talking Screen's Foremost Personality
William Fox-Motionless in 2 Sensational Weeks of the "Roxy," New York City

ON THE STAGE
JOHN IRVING FISHER introducing
MARIO and LAZARUS
Triumph This Week
REMI and BROWN
MABEL ALBERTSON
MARGARET GREEN
JAMES MACK
40-FOX-40
JAZZMANIAN
14-GORGEOUS-14
FOXETTES

STUDEBAKER
Ask Us to Let You Drive It
Phonics: Potomac 1631
Declarer 688

LURAY CAVERNS by Bus
And the Proposed Shenandoah National Park
ROUND TRIP TO LURAY, $5.00
Lunch and Round Trip to Luray, $10.00
(Bus Terminals): 7:30 a. m. & 3:30 p. m.
Intermediate Stops: Washington, Potomac, Valley Connections at Luray.
LURAY CAVERNS, Luray, Va.
WASHINGTON-LURAY BUS LINE
Main 9425. Georgia 3122.

FREDERICKSBURG
The City of Shires
De Luxe Motor Tours
Sundays and Wednesdays
From Willard Hotel 10 A.M.
$5.00 entrance fee
Special Trips Also Arranged
C. C. Drake Travel Bureau
Willard Hotel, 14th & Pa. Ave.
N. W. 4420
For Reservations, Main 4120.

MT. VERNON STEAMER
Charles Macalester
Leaves 7th St. Wharf Daily
10 A. M. and 2:30 P. M.
Round Trip, 85c
Admission, 25c
Cafe and Lunch Counter on Steamer
Mt. Vernon Not Open on Sundays

THE MAN I LOVE
with MARY BRIAN
RICHARD ARLEN
A Picture for Everybody with the Things Everybody Likes
You'll Love—Adventure—Thrills and Terrors—It's All Talking and Mary Brian Also Sings

IT'S GREAT ENTERTAINMENT!
Paramount Presents
THE MAN I LOVE
with MARY BRIAN
RICHARD ARLEN

STANLEY-CHANDALL THEATERS
"Direction Warner Bros."
EARLE
COOLED BY REFRIGERATION
"COOL BUT NOT COLD"
DAILY 10:30 A. M. TO 11 P. M.

THE MAN I LOVE
with MARY BRIAN
RICHARD ARLEN
A Picture for Everybody with the Things Everybody Likes
You'll Love—Adventure—Thrills and Terrors—It's All Talking and Mary Brian Also Sings

IT'S GREAT ENTERTAINMENT!
Paramount Presents
THE MAN I LOVE
with MARY BRIAN
RICHARD ARLEN

STANLEY-CHANDALL THEATERS
"Direction Warner Bros."
EARLE
COOLED BY REFRIGERATION
"COOL BUT NOT COLD"
DAILY 10:30 A. M. TO 11 P. M.

THE MAN I LOVE
with MARY BRIAN
RICHARD ARLEN
A Picture for Everybody with the Things Everybody Likes
You'll Love—Adventure—Thrills and Terrors—It's All Talking and Mary Brian Also Sings

IT'S GREAT ENTERTAINMENT!
Paramount Presents
THE MAN I LOVE
with MARY BRIAN
RICHARD ARLEN

STANLEY-CHANDALL THEATERS
"Direction Warner Bros."
EARLE
COOLED BY REFRIGERATION
"COOL BUT NOT COLD"
DAILY 10:30 A. M. TO 11 P. M.

THE MAN I LOVE
with MARY BRIAN
RICHARD ARLEN
A Picture for Everybody with the Things Everybody Likes
You'll Love—Adventure—Thrills and Terrors—It's All Talking and Mary Brian Also Sings

IT'S GREAT ENTERTAINMENT!
Paramount Presents
THE MAN I LOVE
with MARY BRIAN
RICHARD ARLEN

STANLEY-CHANDALL THEATERS
"Direction Warner Bros."
EARLE
COOLED BY REFRIGERATION
"COOL BUT NOT COLD"
DAILY 10:30 A. M. TO 11 P. M.

THE MAN I LOVE
with MARY BRIAN
RICHARD ARLEN
A Picture for Everybody with the Things Everybody Likes
You'll Love—Adventure—Thrills and Terrors—It's All Talking and Mary Brian Also Sings

IT'S GREAT ENTERTAINMENT!
Paramount Presents
THE MAN I LOVE
with MARY BRIAN
RICHARD ARLEN

STANLEY-CHANDALL THEATERS
"Direction Warner Bros."
EARLE
COOLED BY REFRIGERATION
"COOL BUT NOT COLD"
DAILY 10:30 A. M. TO 11 P. M.

THE MAN I LOVE
with MARY BRIAN
RICHARD ARLEN
A Picture for Everybody with the Things Everybody Likes
You'll Love—Adventure—Thrills and Terrors—It's All Talking and Mary Brian Also Sings

AMUSEMENTS
FOLLOW THE CROWD AND YOU'LL LAND AT THE FUN SPOT GLEN ECHO
FREE AD-MISSION
AMUSEMENT PARK
SPECIAL STUNTS
TONIGHT
IN THE BALLROOM

DAILY EXCURSIONS to the SEA SHORE via Chesapeake Beach Railway
Bathing, Dancing, All Amusements
Round Trip, 50c. Children, 15c.
Sundays and Holidays: Adults, 75c.
Children, 50c.
Trains leave District Line Station
Sundays: 11:30, 1:30, 3:30, 5:30, 7:30, 9:30.
Other Days: 10:15, 11:30, 1:30, 3:30, 5:30, 7:30,

BANK CREDIT SHOWS
FURTHER SHRINKAGE

Reductions Partly Offset by Growth in Loans for Commercial Purposes.

STOCKS' PRICES STEADY

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

Volume of bank credit outstanding has continued to decline in recent weeks. The June bulletin of the Federal Reserve Board will state today, further reductions in security loans and in investments of member banks in leading cities having been partly offset by a growth in loans for commercial purposes.

The total volume of loans and investments of these banks at the end of May was $600,000,000 lower than in the middle of March and $160,000,000 below a year ago. During the same period reserve bank credit outstanding also declined, owing chiefly to further additions to the country's stock of monetary gold.

As compared with a year ago, the volume of reserve bank credit in the latter part of May was smaller by about $200,000,000. While member bank and reserve bank credit, including indebtedness of member banks to reserve banks, has declined, conditions in the money market have remained firm and interest rates on most classes of loans have advanced further. In the latter part of May, however, a considerable liquidation of brokers' loans was accompanied by a decline in rates on security loans placed on call.

LEITH ELECTION ANNOUNCED

Election of T. Hinton Leith assistant cashier, Security Savings & Commercial Bank, to membership in the executive council of the American Institute of Banking at the national convention of the institute at Tulsa, Okla., yesterday, was announced last night by A. E. Hensz, of W. B. Hibbs & Co., president of Washington, D. C. Leith, who is a native of Tulsa, Okla., and was elected national president. The election of Mr. Leith, who is a native of Tulsa, Okla., and was elected national president. The election of Mr. Leith, who is a native of Tulsa, Okla., and was elected national president.

In a country-wide distribution of literature, Mr. Leith was listed as "Washington's" and his record with the local chapter and national organization narrated. A resolution adopted by the board of directors of the chapter, presenting the name of Mr. Leith for election, was also printed in the campaign literature.

The chapter of Columbia Bankers' Association had also endorsed by resolution the candidacy of Mr. Leith, who is a past president of the chapter. Chapter. An institute graduate, he became business manager of Dollars and Sense, chapter publication, in 1925 and was elected secretary of the chapter the following year, serving in that post through 1927 with the additional chairmanship of the publicity committee.

In 1928, he was chairman of the membership committee and was a delegate to the Cleveland convention and in 1924 was elected second vice president of the chapter, serving as chairman of its ways and means committee and as treasurer at the Baltimore convention. Becoming first vice president in 1925, he headed the educational and banquet committee and reached the presidency in 1926. He served for the next two years as a member of the board of governors and has represented the chapter at the Kansas City, Dallas, Detroit and Philadelphia conventions. Since 1925, he has been chairman of the advisory committee and a member of the forum committee.

Directors Are Elected.
The Real Estate Mortgage & Guaranty Corp. yesterday held its annual stockholders' meeting at which the following directors were elected: Henry L. Bruninger, Charles A. Carry, C. S. Duncan, Sol Laneburgh, William Muehlen, Thomas Somerville, Jr., L. E. Breuninger, Jr., L. E. Edwards, C. Ernst, R. L. Neuhauer, Thomas Somerville, W. F. Stickie, Arthur Carr, T. C. Dulin, Hayden Johnson, Horace G. Smith, Anton Stephan and Donald Woodward.

After adjournment of the meeting the directors' meeting was held and the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: president, L. E. Breuninger; vice president, Thomas Somerville and R. L. Neuhauer; secretary, Wilmer P. Stickie; treasurer, Anton Stephan. Hayden Johnson was re-appointed general counsel.

The directors declared a semi-annual dividend at 8 per cent per annum on the preferred stock of the corporation to stockholders of record on June 20, 1929, dividend to be payable on July 1, 1929. The books of the corporation show net earnings for twelve months from June 1, 1928, to May 31, 1929, to be $304,777.93; and that dividends for the same period will total $226,915.50.

Dividends Are Voted.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Lincoln Investment Corp. held at the offices of the company in the American Building it was voted that the regular quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent on preferred stock outstanding as of June 21 be paid on July 1 to stockholders of record. A dividend of 35 cents per share was voted on the common stock.

Stock Prices Are Steady.
Steady prices characterized a quiet market in the final session of the Washington Stock Exchange for the week. Washington Gas stock did not appear on the board, following announcement that New York interests had secured stock to acquire control of the company, and the market closed with 121 bid and 125 asked for the stock.

Washington Gas bonds were popular, however, the 5s selling to the extent of $1,000 at 99 1/4, fractional decline; $4,000 of the 6s at 104, fractional advance; $1,000 of the 7s at 102 1/4, last sale price, and another $1,000 at a fractional decline. Capital Traction stock, following declaration of the $1.75 per share quarterly dividend, sold at $24 1/2, fractional decline, ten shares moving. There was a decrease of $2,900 from Thursday in the bond sale total of $11,000, and a falling off of 249 shares in stock transactions, total turnover being 66 shares. Mergenthaler Linotype stock sold at $12 1/2, 50 shares going at 108, last sale price.

Question of Deeding Decided.

Can a husband, seized in fee of real property, deed to himself and wife and thereby create in such husband and wife an estate by the entirety? If not, is such a deed void, or does it create a joint tenancy or tenancy in common? These questions are of real interest to local banking institutions and are answered in the affirmative in a case recently decided in the New York Supreme Court, that of Bowling v. Schmidt, 232 N. Y. 860.

While this decision is not controlling in the District of Columbia, it is regarded as persuasive authority. The practice here has been to employ a cumulative, circuitous and more expensive method of dealing from a husband or

GRADUATING CLASS AT EATON SCHOOL

BAPTISTS ARE QUIET ON MODERNISM ROW

Threatened Backfire Fails to Materialize at Assembly of Northern Church.

BIG PAGEANT ON PROGRAM

Denver, Colo., June 14 (A.P.).—With the opening pages of the Northern Baptist Convention fired here today in the first session of assembly, the looked for backfire from the weapons of the advocates of "modernism" failed to materialize.

The threatened war clouds cleared away with Dr. Avery A. Shaw, president of Denison University, Ohio, replacing Bishop Francis J. McConnell as keynote of the assembly. Dr. Shaw in his address, alluded only once to the religious problems confronting the Baptist leaders. In referring to "systematic theology" and "standardized worship," Dr. Shaw declared:

"I never have history revealed so spread hunger—history of the heart, a hunger that all the systematic theology and standardized worship in the world can not satisfy."

The nearest thing that came to a debate today was an attack by Arthur M. Harris, of New York, president of the convention, on the age-old custom of honoring with office the oldest members of the denomination simply because of their years of service. Harris contended that the convention should shun away the dead wood and make efficiency the first essential to holding office.

Bishop McConnell, the ousted key-note speaker following Dr. Shaw. The 2,000 delegates gave him an enthusiastic reception. The New York bishop's address was general in its nature. He said he brought no idealistic schemes for the church and that "there is no basis upon which we as denominations can unite at present."

Delegates will have a light day tomorrow and business will be confined to the morning session, after which there will be an excursion into Denver mountain parks.

The big event tomorrow will be a historical pageant in honor of the States. This pageant, which will be arranged by Mrs. Grace Widener Mabee, of Los Angeles, an official of the Federated Women's Clubs of America, will present a panorama of denominational growth and achievement during the last 400 years.

Gold pencils engraved with their names were presented to members of the council of administration of the District of Columbia Bankers' Association yesterday by retiring President Robert V. Fleming as his tribute to their service and assistance. The presentation taking place at a final meeting of the council under President Fleming's administration held at the Willard Hotel.

Following the meeting President Fleming, E. J. McQuade, secretary of the association; First Vice President Wilmer J. Waller and Frank J. Hogan, general counsel of the District of Columbia Bankers Association, will attend the association's convention at Montauk Point, Long Island, N. Y., next week, according to C. H. Pope, convention chairman.

Comptroller of the Currency John W. Pole will name a special committee of banking experts to study the national banking system and make recommendations to Congress for remedial legislation, withdrawal of banks from the Federal Reserve system having become a serious problem.

The committee will have five or six members representing various parts of the country. The comptroller's office is now compiling statistics for the committee's consideration.

PUTTING OUT TO SEA

Suites at The Fairfax are both great fun this season of the year. Lovely, cool, beautiful spots, are now available.

2, 3 and 5 room suites. Full Hotel Service. Call Potomac 4480. The Fairfax. A Residential Hotel of Distinction. 2100 MASSACHUSETTS AVE.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Sidney Franklin Tells the Story of His Success.

(Sidney Franklin, of Brooklyn, N. Y., the only American to seek a career as a bull fighter, has become the idol of Spain. In a recent fight in which he slew two bulls, he was carried from the arena on the shoulders of cheering throngs.—News Item.)

"Well, folks, it is the old story of hard work and ultimate triumph over adversity. As a child I had few of the advantages which help a lad to become a bull fighter. My parents were very poor. They were too poor to keep a bull. Up to the time I was 10 years old I had to practice on a Great Dane. Later my father bought me a goat. Then my parents, realizing that I showed great promise as a bull fighter, hired a tutor who owned his own bull and used to bring it to me for the lessons."

"How I used to dread those lessons! He used to make me practice two hours a day. It was pretty tough having to go out two hours every afternoon and wrestle with a bull when I wanted to stay in and play the piano like other children."

"Well, anyway, I rapidly became the most proficient child bull fighter in my neighborhood. I was called a child prodigy, and when I was 12 years old I gave a bull-fighting recital. All the masters said I had a rare touch and predicted great things for me in the bull ring."

"Then came a severe blow. The professor's bull died. The next bull he bought was no match for me. I went to work as a newsboy and earned enough money to buy my own bull on the time payment plan. It was a beautiful bull, a dull mahogany. Then I decided to waive my amateur standing and come out as a professional bull fighter."

"Even my best friends turned away. They said there was no future in bull fighting and urged me to take up something that promised speedy financial returns, like prohibition enforcement or golf lessons. But I was firm. I believed in myself. I believed in bull fighting. I believed in America."

"It was a hard road I had chosen, no bull attempts to interfere with my life. I was in a bull ring, a small, dark, hot, and noisy place. I was surrounded by a crowd of people, some of whom were betting on me. I was in a bull ring, a small, dark, hot, and noisy place. I was surrounded by a crowd of people, some of whom were betting on me."

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

"Then I turned to Spain. At first

KELLOGG AND LEGION
HEAD IN PEACE PLEA

Former Secretary Appeals for Arbitration; McNutt Upholds Defense.

SEES SPIRITUAL MISSION

New York, June 14 (A.P.).—Frank B. Kellogg, former Secretary of State; William Fortune, president of the American Peace Society, and Paul V. McNutt, national commander of the American Legion, made a plea for world peace in radio addresses tonight in a Flag Day observance program sponsored by the American Legion.

The speeches were broadcast over a National hook-up by the National Broadcasting Co.

Kellogg for Arbitration.

Mr. Kellogg advocated a program of arbitration for settlement of international disputes and the reduction of armaments as the practical solution for the peace problem. The same plan was advanced by Fortune.

McNutt, however, said that while the Legion asks a better method than war for settling international disputes, the methods must be ones which "do not involve loss of national integrity or security."

"We feel that the Nation can be practical in its defense and at the same time maintain the spiritual and material leadership of the world while we wait for world peace," he said.

"The flag of our country has led to victory in every war in which the Nation has engaged," McNutt continued, "but one victory is yet to be achieved. It is the victory of peace over strife. It is our earnest prayer that our flag lead to that victory. For this reason, on Flag Day the American Legion invites consideration of practical methods of securing and maintaining peace."

Urges Adequate Defense.

Such peace he contended, must be "a permanent peace" and until such is found and accepted "this Nation must provide an adequate national defense" which must be "based on an equal service from all and special profit to none."

Mr. Kellogg in outlining his plan for the arbitration of international disputes said armaments should be reduced to a point where armies and navies "will not be a menace to peace."

Mr. Fortune said the peace movement was born in this country 101 years ago with the forming of the American Peace Society. The signing of the Kellogg peace pact, he stated, "is the most hopeful and encouraging step that has ever been taken."

Dr. Max Unger, the New York dentist who has been refusing to move although houseworkers were tearing down the building all about his suite of offices, has at last had to give up. The last straw came when the operator of the steam-shovel poked it through the walls and said leeringly, "Now don't be nervous. This isn't going to hurt you."

(Copyright, 1929.)

You'll Like GREAT FALLS

VIRGINIA

The Ideal Picnic Resort

DANCING TODAY

MUSIC BY

Bill Herron's Orchestra

Chicken and Bass Dinners at

The Inn

Scenic Tower—Carrousel—

Boating, Etc.

Adults...50c

Children...25c

Round Trip

(Under 12)

Trains leave from terminal, south end of Key Bridge (lasts lake road over Chain Bridge through Lanier, Va.)

Washington and Old Dominion Railway

BEHIND THE SCREENS

With NELSON B. BELL

Now that the University of Southern California teaches "photoplay appreciation," with screen celebrities as lecturers, perhaps the health and beauty hints broadcast from Hollywood studios under the names of important film players will be looked upon as public instruction, rather than personal publicity.

Certainly enough health and beauty hints have been distributed from the film capital to make a 50-foot shelf of "Hollywood Hygiene," if assembled. Laid end to end—but why bring that up?

The unabridged edition might be interesting only to the research hounds, but a briefer Hollywood Hygiene, in one volume assuredly would "pop up" the public school courses as at present constituted. Compare, for instance, the following excerpts from the published advice of various stars with the dry-as-Canon-Chase formulas usually found in textbooks!

Bebe Daniels—Take a sun bath every day. Phyllis Haver—Go hatless as much as possible. Joan Crawford—Let go of yourself and fall on the floor at least once every day, for complete relaxation; then pull yourself together and go on with renewed vigor. Renee Adoree—Soften your elbows with glycerine and rosewater. Clara Bow—Shampoo yourself with raw eggs. Mary Philbin—Baths occasionally in lukewarm lemonade. Florence Vidor—Rub a piece of ice over the face and neck daily. Carmel Myers—Use lots of soap and water; the rest is hooey.

Add intimate details of screen star's life—Ronald Colman always grows a new mustache after each vacation. He shaves his upper lip before leaving—and that shouldn't be such a tough job either—which disguises him so effectively that he enjoys his rest without once having to run from an "Oh, look! There's Ronald Colman!"

Just misses recognition by a hair—as you might say.

Film producers, so careful in the choice of names for their players, have a provocative case in the William Boyd case that is without parallel. The William Boyd who first came to real film fame in "The Volga Boatman" is becoming known as Hollywood Boyd.

The other William Boyd, who was the original "Sergeant Quirk" in "The Price of Glory," has gone Hollywood from the Broadway stage and is referred to now as New York Boyd.

Each insists he will not change his name or alter it in any way.

Hollywood Boyd says he has built up his name through motion pictures. He shaves his upper lip before leaving—and that shouldn't be such a tough job either—which disguises him so effectively that he enjoys his rest without once having to run from an "Oh, look! There's Ronald Colman!"

A suit to force New York Boyd to stay, he should change his name, and as he acquired the name first he believes he is entitled to it by reason of priority right.

A

THE SIMPLE FAITH

"I have lived 91 years and want to live on and on, but when the time comes and I must go, I will be ready to meet my God."

A great-grandmother said that just the other day. She was telling the story of her long and useful life, a story that took you back to an old log cabin in the days that Abraham Lincoln was splitting rails and molding character that was destined to leave its impression upon a world of doubt and struggle, a world of smiles and tears.

It was a simple story this great-grandma told, yet powerful and sublime in its simplicity. It was more than a story, for it was a sermon that went straight to the heart. It was more than human. It must have had the touch of the divine. It was the clinging to a simple faith—something the world seems to have lost much of in these modern days.

"I believe in Heaven. I believe in God. There is no special pathway leading over there. There are no reserved seats over there. It doesn't matter what church you belong to. One is as good as the other if we have the simple faith. That's what the world needs today. If we had it there would be less crime and less suffering and fewer tears.

"When I was a girl, home was a sacred place. Fathers and mothers lived close to their children and the children had respect for their parents. Religion had a bigger place in our lives than it does now. The influence of church, of home, of school, of life in every way went with us day by day.

"There are inventions today we never dreamed of when I was young. It's a marvelous age. I am glad to have lived long enough to see all these changes. But we are living fast now. Sometimes we are filled with terror at the things we read of in the papers. But there is much that is good in the world now and there are many opportunities for doing good.

"The thing we need most nowadays is the simple faith. My mother taught me this faith in an old log cabin. What are the mothers and fathers doing today?"

This page has been contributed to by the following:

W. A. H. JHURCH
DP. WM. EARL CLARK
WILLIAM KNOWLES COOPER
Gen. Secy. Young Men's Christian Association.
ARTHUR E. DOWELL
HENRY A. MARITOLOMEW
Pres. Continental Life Insurance Co.
CHARLES L. STURTEVANT
A. P. GROVE
DR. JOHN HOGE IDEN
WILLIAM A. "ILL
Pres. Moore & Hill, Inc.
DR. A. C. CHRISTIE
MAJ. HARRY A. GILLIS
DR. LESLIE FRENCH
T. P. BOLAND
Z. D. BLACKSTONE
Pres. Blackstone, Inc.
JOSEPH M'REYNOLDS
DR. C. G. ABBOT
C. PHILLIPS HILL
ARTHUR FORAKER
GEORGE L. HART
W. S. CORBY
RICHARD S. DOYLE
W. W. DEAL
Deal Funeral Home.

DR. CAMP STANLEY
GEORGE L. STARKEY
Pres. National Bank of Washington.
DR. THOMAS L. RUST
OSCAR COOLICAN
Pres. Packard Washington Motor Car Co.
JOHN THOMAS TAYLOR
WILLIAM J. FLATHER, Jr.
ALLEN V. DE FORD Food Broker.
A. R. SERVEN
Pres. Silent Automatic Corp.
L. L. REEVES
PHILLIPS BROTHERS
JAMES CRAIG PEACOCK
GEORGE H. PARKER
CHARLES P. NEILL
RICHARD L. MERRICK
KARL D. LOOS
EMERSON & ORME
JOHN H. CARROLL
MICHAEL M. DOYLE
PETER A. DRURY
Pres. Merchants Bank & Trust Co. of Washington.
DR. G. C. BIRDSALL
FRANCIS H. DUEHAY
PAUL DULANEY
HORACE DULIN
Pres. Dulin & Martin Co.
DR. ALAN J. CHENERY
H. R. CARROLL
Pres. Carroll Electric Co.
ALMUS R. SPEARE
DR. R. K. FOXWELL
ALBERT F. FOX
Pres. National Union Fire Ins. Co.
JAMES R. ELLERSON, Jr.
WADE H. ELLIS

M. C. BUCKEY
Pres. Buckey & Co., Inc.
DR. J. W. BURKE
DAVID C. BUFCHE
DR. JAMES M. FADELEY
S. T. CAMERON
DR. THOMAS A. GROOVER
MELVILLE CHURCH
KARL W. CORBY
C. C. CALHOUN
DR. MARK F. FINLEY
LIEUT. COL. JOHN H. FINNEY
REV. GEORGE L. FARNHAM
DR. GEORGE H. GROV
DR. JAMES ROGER COSTELLO
JAMES A. COUNCIL
WALTER D. DAVIDGE
JOSEPH E. DAVIES
THOMAS P. BONES
DR. W. SINCLAIR BOWEN
HENRY P. BLAIR
EDWIN H. FITZ
JESSE C. ADKINS
R. P. ANDREWS
Pres. R. P. Andrews Paper Co.
CHARLES H. BATES
MRS. JOHN C. BOYD
L. E. BREUNINGER
CHARLES J. BELL
Chairman of the Board, American Security & Trust Co.
HENRY BREWOOD
EUGENE C. BROCKMEYER

H. P. WILSON
D. J. O'BRIEN
Pres. Mayflower Hotel.
MINA C. VAN WINKLE
LEON TOBRINER
ALFRED P. THOM
CHARLES H. TOMPKINS
Pres. Charles H. Tompkins Co.
JOSEPH P. TUMULTY
RAPHAEL SEMMES
GEORGE N. RAY
ARTHUR STANLEY RIGGS Director, Archaeological Society of Washington.
J. THRYN SELLERS
Judge Juvenile Court.
JOHN H. SMALL
GEORGE OTIS SMITH
WILLIAM O. TUFTS
PAUL E. SHORR
E. F. COLLADAY
DR. DANIEL B. MOFFETT
FRANK W. MONDELL
BERTRAM CHESTERMAN
Pres. The Morris Plan Bank of Washington.
PAUL F. MYERS
WILTON J. LAMBERT
LYNCH LAQUER
ROBERT E. LYNCH
ARTHUR O'BRIEN
RALPH M'KEE
Metropolitan Hotel.
WILLIAM MONTGOMERY
Pres. Acacia Mutual Life Assn.
DR. WILLIAM GERRY MORGAN

R. L. NEUHAUSER
FRED M'KEE
P. D. M'KENNEY
DR. ROY D. ADAMS
HAROLD N. MA.
GUY MASON
ROBERT E. MATTINGLY
Judge Municipal Court.
C. H. MERILLAT
THEODORE MICHAEL
Pres. North Capitol Savings Bank.
SIMON MICHELET
CALVIN T. MILANS
MON A. MILLER
Pres. Miller Engineering Corp.
L'URENCE MILLS
WILLIAM H. DAVIS
DR. WILLI M. F. PATTEN
HUBERT E. PECK
JOHN POOLE
STANTON C. PEELE
JULIUS I. PEYER
Pres. Security Savings and Commercial Bank.
AUGUST H. PLUGGE
DR. J. T. PRENDERGAST
ISAAC GANS
CLARENCE A. O'BRIEN
Patent Attorney.
ALEXANDER WOLF
MARY O'TOOLE
Judge Municipal Court.
FRANK F. NESBIT

FRANKLIN D. JONES
DR. WILLIAM T. GILL, JR.
RUDOLPH JOSE
Pres. The Washington-Cadillac Co.
JOHN I. HAAS
DR. CUSTIS LEE HALL
SYDNEY B. HARRISON
Pres. Little Art Shop, Inc.
JAMES D. HOBBS
RUSH L. HOLLAND
MARTIN W. HYJONG
Pres. Martin W. Hyson Co.
W. PARKER JONES
EZRA GOULD
Pres. Washington Mechanics Savings Bank.
DR. LOUIS S. GREENE
E. F. DROOP & SONS CO.
WOODBURY BLAIR
FRANCIS A. BLUNDON
SIMON LYON
CHARLES D. HAMEL
WILLIAM M. HANNAT
ROBERT N. HARPER
Pres. District National Bank of Washington.
DR. J. THOMAS KELLEY, JR.
GEORGE A. KING
J. LEO KOLB
KRAFT-MURPHY CO., INC.
C. CLINTON JAMES
C. B. KEFERSTEIN
HOLCOMBE G. JOHNSON

J. Z. WALKER
MILBURN F. ZIRKLE
Merr. Chas. S. Zurborst.
THOMAS P. LITTLEPAGE
PAUL E. LESH
H. B. LEARY, JR., & BROS.
JOHN B. LARNER
Pres. Washington Loan & Trust Co.
WILLIAM E. LEARY
CUNO H. RUDOLPH
HUGH REILLY
ARLON V. CUSHMAN
CHARLES N. RIKER
JAMES BERRY
Pres. Perpetual Building Assn.
WARNER STUTLER
ROBERT E. QUIRK
FRANK B. BANKS
Merr. Hotel Roosevelt.
BYRON S. ADAMS
GEORGE C. SHINN
H. H. SHEUTON
RAYMOND L. SCHREINER
Pres. Bank of Brightwood.
A. L. THOMPSON
W. WARREN TALTAVAL
FRANK VAN SANT
DENIS A. UPSON
W. KURTZ WIMSATT
ROGER J. WHITEFORD
WILLIAM G. WHEELER
JOHN R. WALLER
(Copyright, P. B. Zevitz.)

Wall Street Briefs

New York, June 14 (A.P.).—Business failures this week as reported to R. C. Dun & Co. totaled 426, compared with 423 in the previous week and 441 for the corresponding week last year.

The United States Smelting, Refining & Mining Co. has arranged to purchase all the property and assets of the Bingham Mines Co. of Utah, subject to the approval of the stockholders of the latter company. The purchase price was announced as $6,000,000.

shares of common stock of the publicly owned company.

Consumption of rubber in the United States in May amounted to 49,326 tons, or 10.2 per cent below the previous year, compared with 47,531 tons in April, previous high, and 37,338 tons in May,
1928. The Rubber Association of America announced that the stockpile in May 1929 totaled 107,191 tons, as against 107,571 tons in April and 103,357 in May, 1928.

Stockholders of the Westmoreland Coal Co. have approved plans to change the stock to no par shares and to authorize the issue of a holding company of 100 shares of which will be issued to common stockholders of the coal company.

The Syracuse Washing Machine Co. of Syracuse, N. Y., at present has unfilled orders on hand for about 10,000 machines and has advanced the price of each machine to $100. The company announced that it is manufacturing machines at the rate of more than 60 a day.

The Gulf Oil Co., following similar announcement by the Atlantic Refining Co., has advanced the price of its gasoline 1 cent a gallon throughout Pennsylvania.

Curliss Aircrafts Corp. recently

87% 91% 10%
88%
91%
73%
63
28 10% 41%
11% 30%
18% 29%
25% 32
58
95 87 48%
181 21 24%
41%
43% 44 20 218
50%
50%
78%
71
38% 10%
New York, June 14 (A.P.)—WHEAT—first

[illegible]

33%		200 Schulte R Expd Prod	19	19	19
33%		200 Schulte R Expd Prod	21	21	21
9%		200 Sec Gen Am Inv	38%	38%	28%
33%		200 Sec Gen Am Inv	38%	38%	28%
107%		800 Selected Indus	22	21	21
23%		2000 Intel Ind Int XCD	63%	63%	63%
23%		1,400 Century Saf Control	19	19	20
42%		2000 Intel Ind Int XCD	63%	63%	63%
42%		100 Section Leather	23%	23%	23%
23%		100 Shubert Dm	17%	17%	17%
23%		200 Sierra Pac Elec	54	53	83
23%		200 Sierra Pac Elec	54	53	83
27%		200 Silver Corp C orp v/c	30%	30%	30%
18%		200 Silver Bros P	100	100	100
18%		200 Silver Bros P	100	100	100
16%		200 Solar Ref	39%	39%	30
16%		200 South P & L c/t int	122	122	122
78%		200 South P & L c/t int	122	122	122
78%		100 South P & L PD LPX104	104%	104%	104%
23%		1,300 Sou Colo Pot A	24%	24%	24%
23%		1,300 Sou Colo Pot A	24%	24%	24%

CONTINUED ON PAGE 19, COLUMN 4

MONEY TO LOAN

ON IMPROVED
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA
REAL ESTATE

NO COMMISSIONS OR RENEWALS
APPLY

COLUMBIA

1% 13% 14% 18%
2% 32

PERMANENT BUILDING ASSOCIATION
753 12th Street NW.
Main 335-353.

ving Has Reward—

able to look backward over the tion are those who looked for-
The savings account has been saved many a life from a rough
's never too late to start a saver that it soon becomes a National Bank of Utmost Service"

1333 G
Street N.W.

WASHINGTON: SATURDAY, JUNE 15, 1929.

13

PITT AND HUFFY BEATEN IN COLUMBIA GOLF UPSET

Suit to Force Atlanta Deal Planned

Southern Club to Take Sale to Courts, Is Declaration.

Griffith Still Eager to Buy Team Should League Permit.

LAWSUITS are threatened as an aftermath of the Washington Club's action of Thursday in calling off all negotiations for the purchase of the Atlanta Southern Association Club, which purchase was to have been effective after yesterday's game. President Clark Griffith canceled the proposed deal when he learned from Secretary Edward B. Eynon, Jr., who was in Atlanta, preparatory to closing it, that there was a Southern Association rule forbidding the ownership of its franchises by another club in organized baseball and that John D. Martin, president of the association, had stated that he was confident that the necessary three-fourths vote of the league's directors could not be obtained.

Yesterday morning, President Griffith received a telegram from Rel J. Spiller, Cracker owner, demanding that the Nationals complete the purchase of the club, while advising from Atlanta that Mr. Spiller was saying that he planned to turn over the Cracker to the Nationals yesterday whether or not there was any Washington representative present to receive it, with a threat of suit in event of the latter.

An Associated Press dispatch from Atlanta yesterday quoted Leonard Haas, attorney for the Atlanta owner, as saying that a suit would be filed next week in the District of Columbia courts either to compel Griffith to complete the purchase or for substantial damages.

Nats Put It Up to Atlanta Owner to Get League's O. K.

Haas made his announcement yesterday afternoon following a long conference with Spiller.

"It is Griffith who is off—not the deal," said the lawyer. "Just why he should try to call off a legal agreement after putting a $5,000 binder in something Mr. Spiller and I can not understand."

While Haas and Spiller were in conference in one part of the city, the dispatch said, Joe Engel, representative of the Washington Club here, who was asked to take over the presidency at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon, was in conference with attorneys representing the Washington Club.

Following word from Atlanta, the Nats' owner wired Spiller as follows: "If you can obtain within three days the consent and approval of the Southern League to the Washington Club taking title to and operating the Atlanta Baseball Club franchise will go through with contract as of June 15, 1929."

Recovery of $5,000 Binder To Be Sought by Nats.

This apparently puts it up to the Cracker owner. The contract which he made with the Nationals called for him to turn over without encumbrance the franchise in addition to the ball park and other property. If he can do this, President Griffith states that he will be only too pleased to complete the deal, for he considers it a good investment, irrespective of the benefits which would come to the Nationals by using the Atlanta Club as a farm and as an adjunct in the developing of promising young players.

On the other hand, the Nationals have paid Spiller $5,000 advance on the deal, and in view of the Cracker owner's belligerent attitude, indications are that, if the purchase is not completed due to Spiller's inability to deliver what he agreed to sell, the Washington Club will have to seek redress in the courts in order to get their money back.

Approval of Purchase by League Is Possible.

In connection with the ruling of the association that a three-fourths vote of the directors was necessary before a franchise could be sold to another club in organized baseball, it is an odd

HADLEY HAS IT

Chicago	AB	R	H	O	A	E
Metzler	3	0	0	7	0	0
Shires	4	0	1	0	0	0
Hoffman	4	0	1	0	0	0
Watwood	3	0	0	1	2	0
Kamm	3	0	0	1	2	0
Cissell	4	0	1	4	4	0
Kerr	4	0	1	1	0	0
Berg	4	0	1	1	0	0
Adkins	2	0	1	0	1	0
Mishkin	0	0	0	1	0	0
*Clancy	1	0	0	0	0	0
*Taitt	1	0	0	0	0	0

Totals 33 1 6 24 10 1

*Batted for Adkins in seventh.

*Batted for McKinn in ninth.

WASHINGTON. AB. R. H. O. A. E.

Myer, 3b. 3 1 1 2 0 0 0

Rice, rf. 4 0 1 1 0 0 0

West, lf. 4 0 1 1 0 0 0

Barnes, cf. 4 1 1 3 0 0 0

Cronin, ss. 3 1 0 2 4 0 0

Judge, lb. 2 0 0 11 0 0 0

Hayes, 2b. 3 0 1 1 5 0 0

Riel, c. 3 0 0 6 0 0 0

Hadley, p. 3 1 2 0 2 0 0

Totals 27 4 7 27 11 0

Chicago 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 1

WASHINGTON. 0 2 0 0 2 0 0 0 0 1

Runs batted in—Judge, Riel, Kerr, West (2), Hayes, Adkins, Addicks, Three-base hit—Barnes, Stolen base—Cissell. Sacrifices—Judge, Riel.

Double plays—Cissell to Shires; Kerr to Cissell to Shires. Left on bases—Chicago, 9; Washington, 4. First base on balls—Off Adkins, 3; off Hadley, 4. Struck out—By Hadley, 5. Hits—Off Adkins, 5 in 6 innings; off McKinn, 2 in 2 innings.

Umpires—Messrs. Dillman and Nallin. Time—1 hour 35 minutes.

NATS DEFEAT WHITE SOX BY 4-1

Hadley Allows 6 Hits, Fans 5 in Duel With Adkins.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

PITCHERS' duel, a rarity in baseball under the present-day system, was staged at the Griffith Stadium yesterday, and that the Nationals won was due to the fact that they managed to bunch the comparatively few hits they garnered from the comparatively few errors of Grady Adkins and Harold McKinn.

All told, the home gang was credited with but seven safeties, but these were so inserted that they netted four runs, while Irving Hadley allowed the White Sox to coin but one run from the six hits they obtained.

Every one of the alien bingles came in a different inning, but Hadley also granted four passes, and that nine of the aliens were left stranded on the bases shows that the big boy from Lynn was forced to bear down almost all the way. He fanned five during the pastime, which helped some, while Jack Hayes came through with a brilliant one-hand stop and showed to no advantage that he was not a no-hitter.

With two out in the third, Adkins surprised every one by doubling a double, and this so shocked Hadley that he walked both Metzler and Shires, filling the bases before recovering. A long hit here would have done plenty of damage, but Hoffman, the batter, was unequal to the occasion, his best being a bouncer to the Nats' pitcher.

Trouble did not come singly to the Chicks. The Nats holding their counters in two sets of two. The first of these pairs came in the second. Barnes led off with a triple to left center and, after Cronin walked, came home on Judge's long sacrifice fly. Hayes scratched a double to center, on which Cronin took third, and Riel's fly in the same direction was long enough to let Cronin tally, following the catch.

West's single over Shires' Head Scores Two.

In each of the next two rounds the Sox negotiated double plays, two of the three they turned in during the game, but the Nats made their final strike in the next frame, the fifth. But for

Capital Scene Of Big Meet Today

South Atlantic Championships at Central High Stadium.

Special 100-Yard Dash Feature; Bracey to Meet Stars.

WASHINGTON track history probably will be made today when the cream of the Nation's sprinters and 125 other athletes of this section compete in the annual South Atlantic A. A. U. senior field and track championships at Central Stadium, starting at 2 o'clock.

In the special invitation 100-yard dash, the piece de resistance of the nineteen-event program, it is expected that the local 100-yard dash record of 9.7 will be obliterated by the dust of the four stars scheduled to run. The four who will toe the mark in an effort to smash the local record are Claude Bracey, the "Houston Express" from Rice Institute, Tex.; Reginald "Pete" Bowen of the University of Pittsburgh; Dick Rockaway of Ohio State University, and "Flash" Farmer of the University of North Carolina.

George Simpson, world's fastest human, who negotiated the century last Saturday at Chicago in 9.4, will attend the meet as a spectator. Originally scheduled to compete in the feature race, he was forced to withdraw owing to the leg injury sustained in his record smashing feat a week ago.

Opposition Capable Of Pushing Bracey.

Bracey, Simpson's closest rival for the fastest human title, expressed disappointment last night over the Buckeye star's withdrawal.

Bracey wanted to meet Simpson again, for I think I can beat him again," the husky Texan said. In last Saturday's race Bracey trailed Simpson by a foot blazed offerings, but in previous clashes had always beaten the Ohio State runner.

Bracey's rivals this afternoon are capable of pushing him to the limit, and it is this fact which leads most officials to predict a 9.6 hundred at least. Bowen extended Simpson when the latter turned in 9.8 in the Ohio State-Pittsburgh dual meet, while Rockaway and Farmer each have bettered 9.9 in competition.

Relays Are Among Features on Program.

Other features of the card are the intercity policemen's relay race, the Army-Navy one mile relay, while in addition much interest is centered in the six-stations championship events in which the Baltimore Police Department team will wage a fight to retain its 1928 team title. The Naval Academy, with a team of nine of its leading performers, looms as the most dangerous foe of the Baltimore coppers.

Strictly local favor will be contributed by Dave Adelman, Georgetown's star, who is expected to lead the Knights of Columbus, who will seek honors in the six-mile run; Henry McDonald, the six-mile runner, and Dan Fisher, Central High hurdles star, who will defend his high hurdles championship and also seek the low hurdles title.

Benton Stops Pirates, 7-2

As Giants Triumph, 7-2

Pittsburgh, June 14 (A.P.)—Larry Benton stopped the Pirates with seven hits here today, and the Giants won 7 to 2, their first victory in the three games so far played in the series.

New York. AB. R. H. O. A. E. Pittsburgh. AB. R. H. O. A. E.

Benton, p. 7 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Leach, 1b. 4 2 2 0 1 0 0 0 0 0

Traylor, 2b. 4 2 2 0 1 0 0 0 0 0

Leach, 3b. 4 2 2 0 1 0 0 0 0 0

Traylor, ss. 4 2 2 0 1 0 0 0 0 0

Leach, lf. 4 2 2 0 1 0 0 0 0 0

Traylor, cf. 4 2 2 0 1 0 0 0 0 0

Leach, rf. 4 2 2 0 1 0 0 0 0 0

Traylor, c. 4 2 2 0 1 0 0 0 0 0

Totals 35 10 27 12 3 1 0 0 0 0

Totals 33 7 27 12 3 1 0 0 0 0

*Batted for Kramer in seventh.

New York. AB. R. H. O. A. E. Pittsburgh. AB. R. H. O. A. E.

Roush, 1b. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Traylor, 2b. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Leach, 3b. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Traylor, ss. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Leach, lf. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Traylor, cf. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Leach, rf. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Traylor, c. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Totals 30 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Totals 33 7 27 12 3 1 0 0 0 0

*Batted for Kramer in seventh.

New York. AB. R. H. O. A. E. Pittsburgh. AB. R. H. O. A. E.

Roush, 1b. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Traylor, 2b. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Leach, 3b. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Traylor, ss. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Leach, lf. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Traylor, cf. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Leach, rf. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Traylor, c. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Totals 30 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Totals 33 7 27 12 3 1 0 0 0 0

*Batted for Kramer in seventh.

New York. AB. R. H. O. A. E. Pittsburgh. AB. R. H. O. A. E.

Roush, 1b. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Traylor, 2b. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Leach, 3b. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Traylor, ss. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Leach, lf. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Traylor, cf. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Leach, rf. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Traylor, c. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Totals 30 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Totals 33 7 27 12 3 1 0 0 0 0

FIGURES IN SOUTH ATLANTIC TRACK CHAMPIONSHIPS TODAY

Louis Jorden, Post Staff Photographer.

Center—Two world's champions. Dick Rockaway (left), low hurdle record holder who will compete in the 100-yard dash. George Simpson (right), who smashed the world's 100-yard dash. A leg injury will keep him idle. Top, left, Dave Adelman, star Georgetown shot putter. Below, left—The Jahanne trophy to be awarded the winner of the Army-Navy relay. Top, right—The Spitzer trophy, to be awarded the high scoring District team. Below, right, Fiala, Naval Academy quarter miler.

World's Fastest Human Normal Except on Track

George Simpson, Here for Meet, Is Ordinary Mortal; Felt No Sensation in Record-Breaking 100-Yard Dash; Requires Much Sleep.

By JACK ESPY.

THE world's fastest human is a perfectly normal human except when he puts on a track suit and spiked shoes, and then, only then, he is a different person from you or me. But what a difference.

George Simpson, the 20-year-old Columbus, Ohio student, who ran 100 yards in 9.4 seconds last Saturday at Chicago, talked and walked just like an ordinary man yesterday in his suite at the Willard Hotel, where he is stopping while in Washington to attend the South Atlantic field and track games this afternoon at Central Stadium.

One might have expected to find something unusual in the appearance and manner of the fellow who ran the hundred faster than it ever has been before, but the writer found just a plain, modest every-day type of American college student whose penchant for boasting would forever keep a secret of what he has accomplished.

Only Sense of Hearing Dimmed in Record-Breaking Dash.

Next to speed in running, George Simpson's most likable quality is modesty. He answered civilly enough all questions concerning his feats but did not try to elaborate. In fact, he appeared somewhat ill at ease discussing the world's fastest feat he had accomplished.

Asked what sensations are felt when running 100 yards in 9.4 seconds, Simpson replied, "There are none as far as I know. I just run as fast as I can."

As to what he is conscious of as he streaks over the track, Simpson stated that he knows, rather instinctively, the position of his opponents, and that he has a clear vision of the course. He can easily see the tape at the finish line, he said, but he can not hear distinctly.

Concerning the starting blocks which he used in his record making race and which now are the subject of a debate as to whether they constitute mechanical aid, the Ohio State University star declared with emphasis that the blocks do not help his speed.

Sleep Chief Requisite in Training, He Believes.

"The only result of the use of blocks is the saving of time and the track," Simpson asserted. "They prevent the digging of holes in the surface of the track and expedite the staging of the race, as the runners do not have to stop to make the holes with their spikes. If a runner is handicapped for jumping the gun, the race is delayed comparatively little if the blocks are available, for he simply has to move them back to the point designated by the starter."

In his opinion, Simpson stated, the chief requisite for achievement of the highest in sport is plenty of sleep. "I think an athlete can do more for himself by getting a full night's sleep than by any other means. Of course, he must follow the common sense rules of health, too."

According to his coach and trainer, Frank R. Castleman, Simpson this spring has run the 100-yard dash in ten seconds or under in all but one of fourteen competitive races. Five times he has won the race, and he has broken the world's record in the 100-yard dash.

Continued on page 15, column 5.

Continued on page 15, column 5.

Continued on page 15, column 5.

Continued on page 15, column 5.

Continued on page 15, column 5.

Continued on page 15, column 5.

Continued on page 15, column 5.

Continued on page 15, column 5.

Medalist Bows To Former Champion

Finkenstaedt Winner, 2 and 1, Reaches Final Round.

Mackenzie, Aycock, Wisotzkey Also Gain Finals.

By HENRY LITCHFIELD WEST.

TWO serious upsets marked the first round of match play in the annual spring invitation tournament of the Columbia Country Club yesterday morning when both Harry G. Pitt, Manor, former Middle Atlantic champion, and Page Huff, champion of the Congressional Club and former winner of the North and South amateur championship at Pinehurst, were defeated and thus forced into the consolation flight.

As the result of two rounds match play the survivors are Robert L. Finkenstaedt and Albert R. Mackenzie, both members of the Columbia Club, in the upper bracket, and Harry Wisotzkey, of the Rolling Road Club, Baltimore, and semifinalist in the recent Middle Atlantic championship, and Thomas Aycock, of Jacksonville, Fla., the leading player on the Yale Golf Team, who are paired against each other in the lower half.

Finkenstaedt's Birdie on Seventeenth Beats Pitt.

Pitt lost his morning match against Finkenstaedt, a former District of Columbia champion, when the latter beat him 1 up on the seventeenth hole after the green, over 250 yards, and holed out a birdie 3 and won 2 and 1. Huff, who experienced a master of trouble, fell a victim to Aycock in the forenoon struggle by the wide margin of 5 up and 4 to play.

Mackenzie won his morning match in a contest that was not ended until the final hole had been played. He was down 3 up on his opponent, Thomas D. Webb, Jr., Washington, but when Webb made a birdie 2 on the sixteenth, Mackenzie was only 1 up. Webb missed his drive from the eighteenth tee but seemed destined to win when Mackenzie played his drive out of bounds. However, Mackenzie managed to hole out in 5, securing a half and a win for the match. In the afternoon Mackenzie defeated Munro Hunter, Jr., 4 and 3.

Wisotzkey Eliminates Bones and Nicholson.

In the afternoon round Finkenstaedt, who has not played in a golf tournament since he competed in a Columbia Club invitation event in 1921, was apparently marked for defeat, when, at the ninth tee, he was 4 down to his opponent, Elliott Spicer, Indian Spring. Winning the ninth hole, however, leaving him 3 down at the turn, he played an extended match throughout the day, but except the fourteenth and the twentieth and finally defeated Spicer, 2 and 1.

Charles W. Cole, Jr., Indian Spring, won his morning match by capturing a birdie 3 on the fifteenth hole and a birdie on the sixteenth, playing against George F. James, Columbia, but in the afternoon round was eliminated by Aycock. Wisotzkey eliminated Tommy Bones, 2 up in the morning round, and H. D. Nicholson, 3 and 1, in the afternoon.

Although all of the players were evenly matched in the qualifying round, for scores of 80 were the third, sixteen and nothing over 85 qualified in the fifth and last flight, there was only one extended match throughout the day. This was a battle-royal between Charles B. Lydane, Columbia, and Edgar Strobel, Baltimore Country Club, in the fourth round. Lydane, who was 2 up on the fifteenth tee, won the fifteenth and halved the sixteenth and seventeenth holes, thus being still 1 down at the eighteenth. He won the last hole with a par 4, and with the nineteenth halved, won the twentieth when he played for a certain 5 after his opponent had encountered traps and could not do better than a 6.

GOLF SUMMARIES

FIRST SIXTEEN. Finkenstaedt (Columbia) defeated Spicer (Indian Spring) 2 and 1; Elliott Spicer (Indian Spring) defeated A. Cole (Columbia) 2 and 1; Mackenzie (Columbia) defeated Thomas Hunter, Jr. (Columbia) 4 and 3.

Continued on page 15, column 6.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.

ARLOAD"

SKYROADS By LIEUT. LESTER J. MAITLAND

The Return of OLD KING BRADY

Revised by MERLE W. HERSEY.

(Copyright Protected. Reproduction in Whole or in Part Prohibited.)

In the sixth chapter Old King Brady meets Big Bart Brown and several of his men and holds a lengthy conversation in which he informs them that the money they want is in Blueburg. The outlaws dash into Blueburg and fall into the trap Old King Brady has carefully set for them—but Big Bart escapes.

TRAPPING THE "TERROR" OF TODDLETON.

CHAPTER VII.

Old King Brady's Suit on the Trail.

"Brady! Speak! Are you alive?"

"Certainly, I am alive!" responded the old detective as Braxton bent over him.

The Blueburgians had cut him free and the horse had been dragged away, but with his mouth full of dust and half stunned, it was not until now that Old King Brady found himself able to speak.

"Thank heaven! Upon my word, I thought you were a goner when I saw that horse go down."

"I would have been if the horse had not gone down. I knew what was coming, for Brown suspected a trap. His shot never struck me. But what a pity he is not among the dead ones here!"

"You may well say that. You can hardly realize how he has terrorized this region. But we must follow him up."

"There must be some horses belonging to these dead men, running about. See if you can't find them—our horses are pretty well gone," said Old King Brady, turning to the bystanders.

The Toddleton gang had received a severe lesson, but the Terror still lived, and Old King Brady felt that he could not rest until he had completed his job. But he found it hard to work up any enthusiasm in Blueburg. The inhabitants had rallied to defense, but when it came to a man hunt in the forest, every man willing to join in such an undertaking had gone off with Mr. Jasper's crowd. As Banker Turner's associate Jasper felt an equal responsibility for the safety of the community, thus it happened that when Old King Brady rode out of the town later that day, he went alone. He was almost disappointed when he had never tackled the job of tracking down the Terror. But he had to finish the job now—he never did things by halves.

He now disregarded the peddler's rig and decided to ride under his own colors. The long blue coat, with its brass buttons, the high stock and white felt hat, always rendered him courage when he donned them.

"If I hang around the old house long enough I'm bound to see Big Bart again," he thought. So he rode on. It was getting late when he reached the opening in the woods.

"Governor!" exclaimed Harry, rushing forward. "You here! Where in the world have you been?"

Old King Brady was immensely relieved to hear Harry's voice and to see him step out into the open, followed by a rough-looking man whom he instantly recognized as the actual robber of the banker's wealth—Jed Gurley.

Explanations were hurriedly made on both sides, and the ignorant Missourian stood by scarcely understanding anything.

"You say you have rescued Ellen Turner," said the old detective. "Where is she? What are you doing with this man—don't you know he is the real robber?"

"I know more than you think, Governor."

error. You set your trap for the Terror, and it failed, didn't it?"

Harry, I have just told you that it did. Don't taunt me with my want of success, but go ahead and tell me what you have been about."

"Far be it from me to taunt you, Governor, for you seem to have succeeded in keeping the money out of the hands of the gang and that is half the battle. Can't you trust me to finish the fight?"

"Can you do it?"

"I've got my trap all baited. Will you stand by and see it sprung?"

"Why, most certainly, I will," replied the old detective. "But tell me about it."

"No, that is just what I won't do. You are all tired out. Leave it to me and this man."

"What the young fellow says is right, cap," put in Jed. "I hate Bart Brown and I'm willing to go any length to put him behind the bars. But what I want to know is—if I get caught will you say a good word to the sheriff of this county for me?"

"Yes, we will," spoke up Harry. "You have suffered at the hands of Brown—he has burned your home and you have suffered in other ways. Jed, how long will we have to wait?"

"I should think half an hour ought to fetch 'em now," he answered.

"Then we might as well get down, Governor, will you be so good as to follow—Jed. Lead the way, Mr. Gurley."

The Bradys followed as Jed led the way across the road and into the woods on the other side.

"So you got the girl? Where is she now?" asked Old King Brady.

"That, you'll find out in due course of time," said Harry. "I've a surprise for you and I am so sure it will work out that I mean to keep mysterious until the last."

They came suddenly upon a clearing where there was a little frame house. Over the door was a weatherbeaten sign which had one word painted on it—"Bureka."

Old King Brady stopped and stared at the house.

"I've seen this place before!" he exclaimed. "As sure as you live this is my old lead mine. I knew it was near here because the place had changed so I did not recognize it before. The shaft is back there in the woods a little way."

"We'll look it up a little later. Come inside now, I'm expecting the Terror of Toddleton any minute, and we want to be quiet and give him a warm reception when he arrives."

"Why should he come here?"

"Simply because I have set a fellow on to him who will make him believe that he was deceived in thinking the cash was taken to Blueburg, and that my messenger had brought here. I think I will work."

Harry stepped into the house, followed by Old King Brady. Jed disappeared into the shadows and the unfortunate girl had undergone a terrible strain.

"Old King Brady," she said, "I am delighted to see you. Will you come in and see my father—I understand you are something of a doctor."

He followed her into the adjoining room, where, stretched on the floor lay the banker. He had fallen into a deep, heavy sleep, which proved to be just what he needed, for when he awakened he was once more in his right mind. But now they were interrupted by Jed.

"Quick! He's right here!"

"Into the woods, Governor. All we need to do is watch. And Harry led the way in among the trees.

Ellen came out of the hut, too, but instead of following them she walked straight ahead for several minutes and stood there, facing in the direction of the road.

Tom Gurley first appeared, behind him was Big Bart Brown, and behind them a few more. They were all looking at the old detective.

"If you've been foolin' me, Tom Gurley, I'll wring your neck for you," they heard him say. All at once he caught sight of Ellen.

"You, gal! You, hyar," shouted Big Bart, springing forward.

"Don't touch me!" screamed Ellen. "Oh, I'm alone here! What shall I do? Who will save me from this man?"

She turned then and ran.

With an oath Big Bart followed her on the run. Right ahead was a place where a few hemlock boughs lay scattered over the ground. Ellen ran lightly over them. The Terror had no sooner put his foot down on the boughs than he gave a yell and sank out of sight.

"Trapped!" cried Young King Brady, dashing out from cover.

Old King Brady understood it now! There at the bottom of the old lead mine, 20 feet down, lay Big Bart. The rotten boards laid over the mouth of the shaft had borne Ellen's weight, but had broken under Bart's heavy tread.

Conclusion.

When Mr. Jasper's band returned to Blueburg that night, which they did at 9 o'clock, they brought quite a little company with them—the Bradys, the Gurleys, Boney, the banker, and his daughter and, best of all, a prisoner—the Terror of Toddleton. Just in time to be of service, the lead miners had come by the old house and, summoned by the Bradys, had lent their aid.

Big Bart Brown was hurt only in his right arm when he fell from the mouth of the shaft, and that night he was landed in the Blueburg jail.

Next day the Bradys led a band of lead miners into Toddleton and other captures were made. These men were sent up for long terms—while Bart Brown was tried, convicted and hanged for his many crimes. And there ended his career.

As for the banker, he entirely recovered and opened his bank and is still doing well at Blueburg. He rewarded the Bradys handsomely and later bought Old King Brady's lead mine, which he has worked to a profit.

The reign of terror came to an end with the trapping of the Terror of Toddleton.

Mother of Eight Boys

"I read an ad in the newspaper and I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I will recommend this medicine to any woman who is in bad shape like I was. I used to get so tired after a few hours' work that I was even afraid in my own house in the daytime. I didn't care if I lived or died. I have given birth to eight boys and I feel strong right after, since I have taken the Compound."

—Mrs. Maud Meyers, 460 E. 13th Street, Dubuque, Iowa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

BUCK ROGERS, 2429 A. D.

THE TWO SPIES CARRIED ME AND THE SEEMINGLY UNCONSCIOUS WONG DOWN A PRIVATE CORRIDOR, JUST BEFORE THE PATROLMEN CAME TO KILLER KANE'S DOOR.

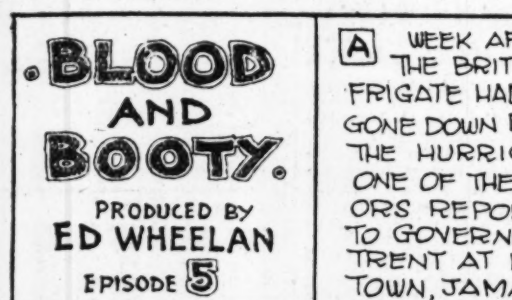

ELLA CINDERS—A Hint to the Wise

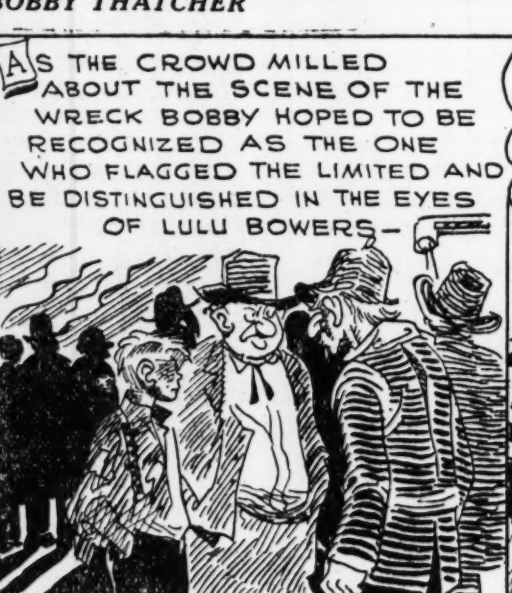

GASOLINE ALLEY

MINUTE MOVIES

BOBBY THATCHER

THE GUMPS

Turns Prisoner Loose

By Phil Nowlan and Dick Catkins

By Bill Conselman and Charlie Plumb

Don't Believe Everything You See in Black and White, Rachel

By Ed Wheelan

Lake Geneva or Bust

By Phil Nowlan and Dick Catkins

By Bill Conselman and Charlie Plumb

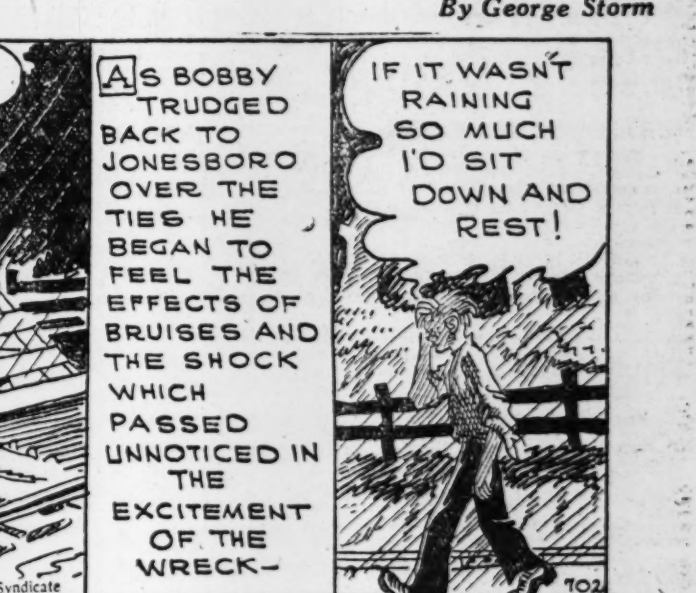

Don't Believe Everything You See in Black and White, Rachel

By Ed Wheelan

Lake Geneva or Bust

FOR RENT OFFICES
INVESTMENT BUILDING
15th & Kay Streets N.W.
Offices on suite of various sizes. Especially attractive single rooms as low as $45 per month.
Wardman Management
James W. Graham, Mgr.

LOANS on AUTOS
Quick Service—Confidential
OUR ONLY CHARGE 3%
United Loan Co.

6% NOTES

Secured by First Mortgages Safe—Conservative

42 Years' Experience

Wm. H. Saunders Co., Inc.
REALTORS
Main 1016 1432 Y

A Complete

Investment Service

GILLET & CO.
BANKERS

INVESTMENT BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C.
Telephone, Main 2460

Capital & Surplus
$3,800,000

ects Your deposits?

most importance to creating a competence. The protection of large funds by experienced banking built by sixty-year banking.

come, and the SAME RATE large and small.

M. June 17th

DIRECTORS:
JAMES J. BECKER
WOODBURY BLAIR
WM. A. S. CHURCH
WALTER C. CLEFANE
H. ROSE DULANT, Jr.

FRANK L. ELLIS
H. PERBOTT GATLEY
WILLIAM D. HOOVER
WALTER HENRY HOWE
REGINALD S. GUIDIKOFF
VICTOR KAUFFMANN
EDMUND D. BREEM
FRANK STEINER
FRANK W. LYONS
WILLIAM E. WALKER
WILLIAM B. WILLARD
HARLEY F. WILSON

in the District of Columbia
New York Ave.

Bank
300,000.00 ars Old OLUMBIA

ft Partner ations has been serving y of Washington, since 1814.

it can readily be a bank is held in will identify you DEPT.

Until May, June 17th

ings

ers' Checks

The Washington Post

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

RATES

For Consecutive Insertions

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

1 line..... 10¢ per week

THE BUNGLY FAMILY

Ha, Back Again

By Harry J. Tutill

OH NO I REALLY

SAID HIM. HE'S

IN TOWN TO TALK

WITH SOME MEN

FROM EUROPE WHO

WANT TO TAKE

CHARGE OF THEIR

ARMY, OR SOME SUCH

ARRANGEMENT.

STUFFY HERE?

LET'S OPEN A

WINDOW.

HE HAS A BEARD

NOW AND IS A BIT

STOUTER. OH DEAR

ME HOW TIME

FLIES.

I GOT THE LACE

FOR MY WEDDING

DRESS. WHAT DID

I DO WITH IT?

I BROUGHT IT

IN WITH ME. DID

YOU NOTICE

ME LAY IT

DOWN ANYWHERE?

YES A DRINK OF WATER. LET IT

RUN SO IT WILL

BE GOOD AND COLD.

OAKDALE? HIM!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

IMAGINE!

CLAIRVOYANTS

RELIABLE

22 Years' Successful Practice

In Washington, D. C.

Martha Spencer

STUDIO, 924 14th St.

Don't Read This!

As a clairvoyant, I have seen many failures in business, love, marriage or divorce. This message is for you. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

past. I have seen your

present. I have seen your

future. I have seen your

HELP WANTED—MALE

EXPERIENCED short-order cook. Apply at once. Jan's Dining Room, 1914 15th st.

LABORERS (10). Apply 7:30 a. m. at 34 and Emerson st. n.w.

SHOP SALESMAN—Experienced; steady; good will be paid. Apply at Union News men. Apply at Family Shoe Store, 311-313

7th st. n.w.

ONE MAN IS KILLED, ANOTHER STRICKEN BY GAS-JET FUMES

Measra. T. J. Crowley and M. K. Carney, of St. Mary's Seminary, will go to the American College, Rome, for theological studies.